AUTOMOBILE BRINGS DEATH TO THE FAIRS

Machine Was Going Over Sixty Miles an Hour When Tire Burst.

QUICKLY SWERVED AGAINST BIG TREE

California Millionaire and Wife Thrown Into Air and Instantly Killed by Fall.

MAKING RAPID RUN TO DINE IN PARIS

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

Evreux, France, Aug. 14.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Fair of San Francisco were killed in an automobile accident at Pacy-Sur-Eure, near here, today while en route from Trouville to Paris. The chauffeur lost control of the machine because of the exploding of one of the front tires while going at a high rate of speed, and it swerved up an embankment and struck a large elm tree. Mr. and Mrs. Fair were thrown high into the air and struck the ground. Both were dead when extricated from the wreck of the machine, which had fallen over upon them.

The accident occurred at half past 2 o'clock this afternoon and almost in front of the Chateau Buisson du Mai. The Fairs intended to dine and spend the night in Paris and return to Trouville for lunch tomorrow.

Woman Only Eyewitness.

The wife of the gatekeeper of the chateau was the only witness of the disaster. She says she noticed a big red automobile coming along the road at a tremendous pace. Suddenly something happened and the heavy machine slid sideways from the right to the left side of the road for about 60 yards. It then dashed up an embankment, turned a complete somersault and crashed into a big elm tree in front of the gate of the chateau.

The automobile was completely wrecked, the front axle was broken and other parts of the machine were smashed, including the steering gear. When the automobile turned over the wife of the gatekeeper says she saw Mr. and Mrs. Fair thrown high in the air and fall to the ground.

The chauffeur, who was sitting behind the Fairs, was precipitated into a ditch. He staggered to his feet, calling for help. The gatekeeper's wife rushed to his assistance and aided him in extricating Mr. and Mrs. Fair, who were buried beneath the wrecked machine and in the last throes of death.

Both had sustained ghastly injuries and were almost unrecognizable. Mr. Fair's head had been crushed in, while his wife's skull was split. The chauffeur seemed bereft of his senses. He threw himself into a ditch on the opposite side of the road and rolled about crying: "My poor master."

Bodies Lie in Lodge.

M. Borson, owner of the chateau Buisson du Mai, was summoned, and after advising the local authorities of the accident he ordered the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Fair to be carried to the gatekeeper's lodge. Here they now lie on mattresses and flowers have been strewn over them. In the room are three wax tapers burning dimly.

At the time the accident occurred the automobile, which was capable of running 75 miles an hour, was going at the rate of 62 miles an hour.

The local police authorities hold in their possession and have sealed up a valise belonging to the Fairs which contains jewelry, two letters of credit, a French bank note worth $200 and some gold coins.

PARIS, Aug. 14.—The Fairs have been living lately in Paris at the Hotel Ritz and kept their apartments there while they were staying at Trouville. This morning Mr. Fair sent a dispatch from Trouville to the management of the Hotel Ritz saying he and his wife would arrive there this evening.

Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who was Mr. Fair's sister, returned from Trouville Sunday and sailed for New York yesterday on the North German Lloyd steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm.

Lover of Automobiling.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Charles Fair had been enthusiastic about automobiles ever since the machines came into use abroad. He was one of the first to bring automobiles to this coast, and he owned three or four of them. He had what was perhaps the largest and swiftest auto in California. It was a huge French machine, and capable, it is said, of going at a speed of 70 miles an hour. It had a 30-horse power engine. He imported it from France and with it imported a chauffeur.

Fair was interested also in yachting and owned the steam yacht Lucero.

Mr. Fair and his wife left San Francisco for Europe on May 3 last to stay two or three months.

Mr. Fair was the third of the four children of the late Mr. and Mrs. James G. Fair. He was born in Virginia City, Nev., April 11, 1867. Teresa, who is now the HORSE OF MANY COLORS SEEN IN EAST PITTSBURGH.

There was a red, white and blue horse in East Pittsburgh last night. Incidentally the horse was several other colors. J. G. Rodgers, the owner, will have to use several gallons of "turps," and put in many hours to get the animal back to its original color. Rodgers is a painter of Braddock, and yesterday completed a big job. He had James Christy load all of the buckets of paint into the wagon, to take back to the shop. While in Bessemer terrace, East Pittsburgh, a street car came up behind, and there was a "scatterment." Christy was thrown on top of the horse and then the contents of the paint buckets were splashed all over them. The wagon was completely wrecked. The front of the car was liberally peppered also.

SILENCE EQUAL TO ACCEPTANCE OF ENDORSEMENT

Politicians Say Citizens Should Go Ahead With Campaign Plans.

PENNYPACKER DID NOT REFUSE HONOR

By CHESTER D POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 14.—Senator Quay is rapidly convalescing. Dr. Penrose, his physician, informed him today that he would be able to go to Philadelphia at the end of the coming week. The senator expects to visit state headquarters as soon as possible. His proxy, Secretary W. R. Andrews, is now filling the position of state chairman in a creditable manner and Chairman Quay is not worrying about details of campaign work.

When seen this afternoon at his cottage on New Hampshire avenue, Col. Quay was in buoyant spirits. He was sitting up with his bootless right foot swathed in bandages. Reports of the injury have been greatly exaggerated, the senator said. The scalding water caused a burn on the instep about the size of a silver dollar, an area that was very thoroughly cooked. It has been very painful, is so yet when the senator walks about too much. But the published statements that the senator will be confined to his room for a month or more are without foundation.

Sticks to Golden Silence.

While Col. Quay indicated his usual interest by discussing every phase of the political situation, he would not be quoted. He very positively announced that, while filling the position of Republican state chairman, he would have nothing to say outside of that which will be embraced in his official correspondence.

It has been stated that the miners would ask Col. Quay to use his influence to settle the strike. If such is the intention it has not taken form, as thus far the senator has heard nothing of it except the rumors published. He is anxious to have the strike end and willing to do all in his power to accomplish such a result but how he could be personally helpful he does not know.

Chairman Quay has not seen Judge Pennypacker since he left a month ago for the Maine woods. He refused to be quoted as to the probable course of the judge in reference to the indorsement given him by the Citizens' party of Pittsburgh. I talked with quite a number of Republican leaders on this subject. Their views were the same. Briefly it is: That the Citizens' party leaders should not wait for a public acknowledgment from Judge Pennypacker; that it is not necessary, and that the proper course to pursue is for the Citizens' party managers to go ahead and file their nomination papers, taking it for granted that Judge Pennypacker and the other Republican candidates will feel very grateful for the voluntary support tendered them.

Silence Gives Consent.

Any other view, it is stated, would be untenable. The Citizens' party indorsed Judge Pennypacker; he was officially notified of the action; he did not decline the support tendered. In this case "silence gives consent."

Competent political authorities express the opinion that the Republican "organization" leaders of Pittsburgh have made a serious blunder in so loudly protesting against the placing of Pennypacker's name on the Citizens ticket. It is pointed out that the wise course would have been to minimize its importance, if it was believed to be of potential effect. Friends of Judge Pennypacker do not believe that his indorsement by the Citizens' party will have any effect upon the vote cast for or against the "organization" county candidates. They assert that those who intend voting the Citizens ticket will do so, regardless of the personnel of the state candidates who head it; that their purpose is only purely local, a desire to gain control of city and county affairs.

Representative Thomas V. Cooper has been given charge of the literary bureau at state headquarters. He opened up today. "Fighting Tom" will give some lurid touches to the opposition and his "red lantern" will light the way.

Pittsburgh Man Installed.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—After the exemplification of the unwritten work of the order by Supreme Exemplifier O. W. C. Whinna of Philadelphia, the grand circle of Pennsylvania Brotherhood of Union adjourned today to meet next year at Allentown. Robert Crawford of Pittsburgh was installed as G. C. J., and deputy for Allegheny and Mercer counties.

JUSTICE SHIRAS DID NOT CHANGE ON INCOME TAX

Charge Under Which He Has Rested Lifted by Gray's Retirement.

HARLAN INDICATED THE ACTUAL SHIFTER

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—The retirement of Justice Gray from the supreme court has revived talk concerning the celebrated decision by the court against the income tax law, in connection with which the action of Judge Shiras was severely criticised. In that case Justice Shiras was accused of changing his vote on the final decision. He was denounced in congress, in the press and on the stump, but neither Justice Shiras nor any other member of the court ever uttered a word of confirmation or denial. Consequently the public has accepted it as a fact that Justice Shiras did change his vote at the last hour.

It is now declared by men who claim to know that it was not Justice Shiras who changed his vote, but Justice Gray. When the case was argued the first time only eight judges sat and the decision of the court was a tie. A rehearing of the case was ordered before a full bench and Justice Jackson, a Democrat, who favored the law, joined his colleagues on the second hearing. Nevertheless, when the decision was announced, it was found that the vote of the court stood four in favor of the law and five against it.

On the first hearing five members of the court delivered opinions and on the second hearing Justice Jackson announced his attitude. On both occasions Justices Gray, Brown and Shiras were silent. It was only an assumption that Justice Shiras had been for the law on the first hearing and against it on the second. It necessarily followed from the vote that one of the justices had changed his holding. Suspicion rested upon Justice Shiras because he was what is termed a corporation lawyer. It might have been said, on the same ground, that he was against the law in the first place, it is asserted to be a fact that he was against the tax first, last and all the time.

It is now recalled that Justice Harlan, who was for the tax, in his opinion on the second hearing, closely indicated the member who had changed his mind. When Judge Harlan was referring in vigorous and emphatic terms to the sudden change of heart upon the part of a member of the court who had previously favored an income tax he turned and glared fiercely at Justice Gray. The force of this circumstance is drawn from the fact that at that time Judge Shiras sat on the left of the chief justice with Justice Harlan, while Judge Gray sat on the right side of the chief justice with Judge Field. There was apparently no doubt in Judge Harlan's mind as to which member of the court had changed his vote if looks and actions mean anything.

DRESSER IS NOMINATED.

Republicans Name McKean County Man for Congress in the Twenty-First District.

DUBOIS, PA., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The Republican congressional conference of the Twenty-first district, comprising the counties of Cameron, Center, Clearfield and McKean, tonight nominated S. R. Dresser.

The conference organized by electing Col. Wilbur F. Reeder of Bellefonte chairman and Leslie Stewart, Carl Enstrom and V. K. Corbett secretaries. Each of the counties presented a candidate. Col. Barclay of Simemahoning, Cameron county; Dr. W. I. Locke of Bellefonte, Centre county; the Hon. W. C. Arnold of DuBois, Clearfield county, and S. R. Dresser of Bradford, McKean county, were placed in nomination.

Four sessions were held and 20 ballots were taken without a choice. At 11 o'clock tonight the conference reassembled and Edmund Blanchard of Center county, moved that the nomination of Mr. Dresser be made unanimously. The motion was seconded by W. C. Baum of Clearfield county and unanimously carried. Aside from a few complimentary exchanges the result on the 20 unsuccessful ballots was straight county votes for the four candidates.

Elk Street Fairs Prohibited.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Aug. 14.—Street fairs or carnivals under the auspices of Elk lodges were prohibited by the grand lodge of the order today. The new law will not go into effect until January. The grand lodge adjourned today, after fixing the place and time of the next reunion at Baltimore, July 21, 1903.

TWO RIOTERS ARE WOUNDED BY DEPUTIES

Guards Fired Volley Into Crowd Which Stoned Washery.

MADE AN ATTACK UPON MEN AT WORK

Warning Given and Most of the Bullets Were Fired Into the Air.

MITCHELL REPLIES TO FATHER O'REILLY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 14.—A riot occurred at the Warnke washery at Duryea this afternoon. Trouble had been brewing since early morning. Before 7 o'clock 500 men and boys collected and threatened to interfere with those who wanted to go to work. Sheriff Jacobs had a number of deputies on the ground and they held the crowd back. The works were started but remained in operation only a short time.

The crowd on the outside threw stones over the stockade at the deputies, who were on guard inside. Several times the deputies were tempted to fire. Rather than have trouble, work was suspended. The deputy sheriffs returned to Wilkesbarre early this afternoon, reporting all quiet at the washery when they left.

They had hardly reached Wilkesbarre, however, until the deputies on guard were attacked. Several men in the mob attempted to climb over the barricade. The deputies warned them to go back, and when they did not a volley was fired. Most of the bullets went high into the air.

Two Men Wounded.

Harry Collins was shot through the right leg. Andrew Marlack, a Lithuanian, received a flesh wound. Another foreigner had a narrow escape. A bullet passed through his coat. A colored man employed at the washery, thinking his life was in danger, escaped from the barricade and ran down the street. He was pursued by an angry crowd who cried: "Hang him! hang him!" The man was finally run down, but before any harm could befall him a number of constables rescued him.

Deputy sheriffs from Luzerne and Lackawanna counties at once went to the scene of the rioting, but when they arrived the mob had dispersed. An eye witness says the attack, the shooting and the retreat did not last more than five minutes.

Warrants were sworn out before the burgess charging the deputies with rioting and felonious wounding. The constables went to the washery and placed 25 men under arrest. They were arraigned before Burgess Burlington tonight and held in $3,000 bail each. They could not furnish bail and were brought to the county jail here.

The mine workers say the shooting was uncalled for and the deputies alone are to blame. Vice President Rescavage of the miners' union of District No. 1 says the deputies were in an ugly mood.

Sheriff Jacobs of Luzerne county is in Hazleton. The office here is in charge of Chief Deputy Rhodda. He denies a report which gained currency tonight that Sheriff Jacobs had applied to Gov. Stone for troops. He says all is quiet at Duryea now, and he does not expect any further trouble. If it is decided to resume operations at the washery again the sheriff will have a guard strong enough to preserve order and give ample protection to those who want to go to work.

Mitchell Replies to O'Reilly.

President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers today gave out his letter to Father O'Reilly of the Church of the Annunciation at Shenandoah, protesting against the sermons attacking him on the last two Sundays. President Mitchell says he writes to disabuse Father O'Reilly's mind of ideas which are erroneous and with the hope that he will take immediate steps to right the wrong he has done. He says:

I care very little personally for criticism directed against me, but I do care for criticisms if they affect the happiness and prosperity of those whom I have the honor to serve. I am sure that occupying the position you do you must know that the miners and those dependent upon them have, from time immemorial, worked and lived under conditions which were humiliating and un-American in the highest degree.

My efforts and those of others associated with me have been exerted to secure for our craftsmen higher wages and humane considerations of employment. I have advised our people to conduct themselves in such a manner as would command the respect and confidence of all well-disposed persons. That our actions have failed to impress you with our sincerity of purpose I deeply regret, but I trust that you will make a closer investigation and will become convinced that we are not influenced by other than high and honorable motives in the work we are trying to perform.

In reply to these communications, President Mitchell received the following from Father O'Reilly:

In reply will say that I have no knowledge of saying anything to reflect on your personality, nor do I hold myself responsible for what others say or write about me, the fact is, I do not know you, have never seen you to my knowledge.

As to the organization or organizations you represent I have only to say their conduct and methods of doing things in this parish, I do not approve, and never will approve, unless they change for the better.

THE REV. DR. M. M. SWEENEY,
The Bellevue Preacher Who Committed Suicide While in a Deranged Condition.

OPENED VEINS, AND LIFE-BLOOD DRAINED AWAY

Rev. Dr. M. M. Sweeney of Bellevue Ended His Existence.

WIDELY KNOWN AS METHODIST PASTOR

The Rev. Dr. Milton M. Sweeney, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Bellevue, committed suicide yesterday morning by cutting the veins in his wrists and right leg. The act was committed soon after 1 o'clock in the morning. He was discovered by his wife about 5 o'clock, and died at 6:30 o'clock, after speaking a few words to his wife and daughter.

Mr. Sweeney has been a pastor in the Methodist Episcopal church for 34 years, and no member of the Pittsburgh conference was better known. He was a man of commanding presence, and, while not highly educated, had an excellent knowledge of the Bible. He was not afraid to speak out on any question, and when he believed he was right, used all of his power to convince others of what he considered their error.

Mr. Sweeney was one of the most eloquent speakers in the Methodist pulpit. His manner was convincing and he was perhaps at his best when speaking in the conference, where his voice was often heard.

A Nervous Breakdown.

The mental condition of the preacher had not been the best for many years. Twice he broke down. Once, when Mr. Sweeney was pastor at Latrobe, he disappeared. When found he could not tell where he had been or what he had been doing. He was not himself for several months. On another occasion there was a mental break-down that caused his family and friends much alarm.

Many years ago Mr. Sweeney lost an eye. This was not known by many persons who have been intimately acquainted with him, as the glass one he had was a close imitation. This eye is said to be the cause of Mr. Sweeney's mental trouble. The artificial eye is said to have irritated the nerves. The friends of Mr. Sweeney are sure that the fatal wounds were inflicted when he was temporarily insane.

His Last Sermon.

He preached to his congregation on Wednesday night. His manner was peculiar, and when the congregation was dismissed, the conduct of the pastor was the principal topic of conversation. Nothing was done or said that was out of the way, but there was something peculiar about everything.

One gentleman said that he and his wife arrived at the conclusion that Dr. Sweeney's actions at the prayer meeting were those of a man who had a disagreeable task to perform, and had made up his mind to do it as quickly as possible and get rid of it.

The beginning of the end of Mr. Sweeney's career came a week ago when he was attacked with vertigo while in Pittsburgh. Since then he had been in a bad mental condition, but refused to keep his bed, as his wife wanted him to. After prayer-meeting he and his wife talked a few minutes and then Mr. Sweeney retired for the night. About midnight his daughter returned home, and on going to his room spoke to him. About 1 o'clock his wife spoke to him.

Wife's Awful Discovery.

Mrs. Sweeney awoke yesterday morning about 5 o'clock and going to the room occupied by Mr. Sweeney, tried in vain to arouse him. Turning on the light she was horrified to see that he was weltering in blood, and that her hands were smeared from touching him. Dr. D. W. Cunningham was called. He used the most powerful remedies and succeeded in arousing Mr. Sweeney to consciousness for a few minutes. He told his wife and daughter that he recognized them, and bade them good-bye. As his body had been drained of blood, he soon lapsed back into unconsciousness and died at 6:30.

The wounds inflicted by Mr. Sweeney were superficial, indicating that he was not only weak mentally but physically. No arteries were severed. A number of veins were cut, and life slowly dripped away. The cuts on the wrists were inflicted with a knife and the cut on the leg with a razor.

Besides his widow, Mr. Sweeney leaves three children. One, a daughter, is at home; another daughter is the wife of the Rev. Robert Yost of Omaha, and Norman, the son, lives in Youngstown.

POLICEMAN IN A SPEAKEASY USES HIS GUN

Patrolman Frank McCollough, While Off Duty, Shoots Wm. Dunn.

WAS INTOXICATED AND DISORDERLY

Frank McCullough, a Pittsburgh policeman, while off duty and intoxicated at 1:30 o'clock this morning, got into a dispute with William E. Dunn of No. 21 Haldane street, Greenfield, in the speakeasy at No. 440 Third avenue, and, chasing him into the street, shot him. The wounded man was taken to the Homeopathic hospital and the policeman was taken to the Central police station and locked up.

The incident is another disgraceful affair, reflecting in an altogether discreditable manner on the Pittsburgh police force. McCollough, the policeman who was off duty and in citizens' clothes, is said to have been drinking in the speakeasy until he was in an intoxicated condition. He got into an altercation with Dunn and Dunn, finally deciding that discretion was the better part of valor, started out and ran into the street. Mc Collough followed him.

Dunn told McCollough that he did not want to have any trouble with him, but McCollough is alleged to have said: "I will hit you anyway."

With this he pulled out his revolver and shot Dunn. The ball entered the fleshy part of the right hip and took a downward course. Officer Simon Francis heard the shot and ran from around the corner and placed McCollough under arrest. At first McCollough refused to be taken into custody and resisted. He showed Officer Francis his shield and keys and said he was on duty. Officer Francis knew better than this, and told him that he would have to go to the police station, and that he was intoxicated.

The patrol wagon was summoned and McCollough was taken to the Central police station. His police keys and shield, and also the revolver with which he did the shooting were taken from him. Dunn was assisted to the Homeopathic hospital. His condition is not considered serious.

Dunn is 30 years old and a laborer. McCollough is 40 years old and has been on and off the police force for several years. For several days he has been off duty and has been loitering about Third avenue and Grant street. On Wednesday night he was in this neighborhood and in his uniform. Officer Francis was compelled to send him away several times that night, as he was annoying citizens.

Last night McCollough stood at the same place and gave Officer Francis considerable trouble. No attempt was made last night to close the speakeasy, and after the shooting the place was running as though the disgraceful affair had not taken place.

PLANS OF SCHWAB'S GIFT.

Architect's Work Completed for Auditorium at State College.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Edward Hazelhurst, architect, has completed the plans for the $150,000 auditorium to be given to the Pennsylvania state college in Center county by Chas. M. Schwab, president of the United States Steel Corporation.

This institution will also be the recipient of one of the largest and most elaborate organs in America, given by Andrew Carnegie, which will be installed in the auditorium.

FUN LOVING BOYS MADE DOGS MAD.

Apparently every dog in West Homestead went mad yesterday, and there were all kinds of excitement. Dogs were running about wildly, and behind nearly every house was a howling dog. Mothers got their children inside doors, and barred them from going out. Frightened men got their guns ready and prepared to defend their lives and the lives of their loved ones. Officer Welsen late in the afternoon discovered that the dogs were not really mad—they were only offended because they were the victims of a practical joke. Some boys got a lot of menthol, which they placed on the dogs' heads as fast as they could capture them. The intense cold produced by the menthol made the dogs act as if they were mad, and everybody thought they were.

VENEZUELAN GOVERNMENT LOSES CITY

Porto Cabello Falls Easy Prey to Revolutionary Forces.

ANARCHY REIGNS IN BARCELONA

Foreigners Suffer Most in Sacking of Business Houses by Rebel Soldiery.

HAITI AND COLUMBIA STILL IN ERUPTION

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14.—Porto Cabello, the most important city in Venezuela next to Caracas, has fallen into the hands of the revolutionists, according to a rather mystifying cable received at the navy department late this afternoon from Commander Nickels of the Topeka, recently ordered there. He states that there is no immediate danger of attack on the town by government troops, indicating that it is already held by the revolutionists. At last reports the city was surrounded by revolutionists. The government force was small.

The passage of a day has not improved conditions in any part of Venezuela, and rather plentiful advices have been received which show that a state bordering on anarchy reigns in Barcelona, where the inhabitants are intensely alarmed and where they are held up and made to ransom their safety. The extent of the damage done is most accurately set forth in this dispatch from Commander McLean of the Cincinnati, which arrived at Barcelona yesterday:

Foreigners Worst Sufferers.

"Barcelona sacked by revolutionists. They have imprisoned all civil and military officials. Are in possession of entire district. Some pillaging done, but everything now quiet. Twenty-nine business houses sacked, mostly foreign."

Minister Bowen at Caracas has cabled the state department that he is advised by the United States representative at Barcelona that the revolutionists are sacking the town. They are demanding money from the foreign residents, he said, in exchange for a guaranty of safety of their lives and property. Mr. Bowen reports the general situation as serious.

The gunboat Marietta has just returned from the Orinoco to Port of Spain, from which point her commander, John A. Rodgers, sent this cable to the navy department under date of August 12:

"Three American citizens are at Angostura (on the Orinoco, near Ciudad Bolivar), but their lives and property were safe when the ship sailed. City controlled by a revolutionary military chief. Foreign subjects alarmed at the situation. Two steamers of the Orinoco company are forcibly detained at San Felix for governmental use."

No Mention of Consulate.

In the absence of any advices to that effect, it is felt here that the United States consular agent's interests in Barcelona have not been disturbed.

Commander McLean does not appear to regard the situation at Barcelona so serious as does Minister Bowen.

Admiral Killick, who commands the lone gunboat which constitutes the navy of the revolutionary government of Gen. Firmin in Haiti, has abandoned his attempt to blockade Cape Haitien. Early this morning the commander of the Machias, still at Cape Haitien, cabled the navy department that Killick acknowledged that the blockade was ineffectual, and therefore abandoned. Later the state department received from Minister Powell at Port Au Prince a cablegram stating that telegraph communication has been cut off between Port Au Prince and Gonaives. Gonaives was yesterday reported as having fallen into the hands of Gen. Firmin.

PANAMA, COLOMBIA, Aug. 14.—A telegram from Bogota says the national government has sent a strong army to the Atlantic coast to operate against the revolutionists, everything being quiet in the interior of the republic. Gen. Gonzales Valencia will be commander-in-chief of the force.

General Pinzon in Bad Shape.

On August 10 2,000 men arrived at Barranquilla, 4,700 were ready at Honda and orders were given the governor of Cauca to send 2,000 men to Panama.

The government cruiser Gen. Pinzon is under orders to go to Savanilla to bring reinforcements, but her sailing has been delayed by need of repairs to her machinery. The government gunboat Cartagena is expected here momentarily with the first detachment of government reinforcements from the interior.

No information can be obtained concerning the situation at Agua Dulce, as there is no communication with that point.

There is no explanation of the non return of the government gunboat Boyaca, which left Panama July 29 with about 300 men on board. Nothing has been heard of the vessel since her departure.

ALLEGHENY MAN FOUND DEAD AFTER MANY DAYS

Charles Lowe Died, No One Knows How, While His Wife Was Away on a Visit.

Charles Lowe, 27 years old, was found dead last night at his home, Kentucky avenue and Fulton street, Allegheny. The body was in a bad state of decomposition. Lowe and his wife lived on the second floor of a house also occupied by George Brown, a member of engine company No. 7.

Mrs. Lowe went away on a visit several days ago and Lowe had not been seen since last Monday. The Brown family thought nothing of his absence until last night, when a man inquired at the engine house of Brown, whether he had seen Lowe recently.

The firemen then decided to make an investigation. Upon entering one of the rooms they found the body of Lowe lying upon a bed. The cause of his death is unknown.

TARENTUM OPENS A CAMPMEETING WITH SUCCESS

Display of Genuine Old-Fashioned Methodist Enthusiasm Is Apparent.

GREAT CROWD ATTENDED

For Ten Days, Religious Fervor Will Have Full Sway on Famous Camp Grounds—Meeting at Mt. Sewickley Also Aroused Interest.

Enthusiasm like that of the olden time attended the opening of the Methodist campmeeting near Tarentum yesterday. The old grounds had been renovated, grass was sown, the trees had been pruned and new ones planted, and the cottages were newly painted. A large crowd, vieing with the crowds of 30 years ago, was on the ground.

It was the fifty-second session of the Tarentum campmeeting and the congregation seemed to be actuated by a revival of the old campmeeting spirit.

The Tarentum grounds are the oldest used for campmeeting purposes in this part of the state. More than a half-century ago Judge Breckenridge donated the grounds. The grove lies two miles back of Tarentum.

The campmeeting will last until August 24 inclusive. Some noted preachers and revivalists will be present every day, two or more being on the program for sermons each day of the session. Yesterday the Rev. J. P. Marlatt of Tarentum and the Rev. W. D. Sleese of Sheraden preached and conducted services, the former occupying the platform at 10:30 a. m. and the other at 7:30 p. m.

Some of the church members who attended the meetings in the palmy days of the Tarentum grounds, said that the old days of religious enthusiasm seemed to have returned. Croakers, who had predicted that the trustees would not succeed in arousing interest in the campmeeting, were confounded by a rejuvenating of religious zeal. Justice R. S. P. McCall has been one of the chief promotors of the meeting and is elated at its successful opening.

Although the meeting that began yesterday will last only 10 days, it is understood that religious services will be held all through the summer for the benefit of the members who live in cottages on the grounds.

So many other campmeeting resorts have been abandoned that it is believed Tarentum will be able to maintain the interest in outdoor religious service for years to come.

For today's meeting, the Rev. T. C. Shallenberger and the Rev. Ralph Bell of Bennett will preach, the former at 10:30 a. m. and the latter at 7:30 p. m. Tomorrow morning the Rev. J. O. Clark of Tarentum will preach, and the Rev. B. E. Shaner of Tarentum will hold forth in the afternoon.

A more elaborate program has been prepared for Sunday. A general class meeting will be held at 9 a. m.; the Rev. J. B. Starkey of Pittsburgh will preach at 10:30 a. m., the Rev. Dr. O. H. P. Graham of Sharpsburg at 2:30 p. m., the Epworth league will conduct services at 6:30 p. m., and at 7:30 p. m., the Rev. G. W. Grannis of Venetia will preach.

W. J. Sterling is president of the association, R. S. P. McCall, secretary; J. L. Shook, chorister, and the Rev. Dr. J. P. Marlatt is in charge of the services.

THE WEATHER.

Pittsburgh will have fair and slightly warmer weather today and tomorrow, according to the prediction of the Washington weather bureau. Rain was predicted for yesterday, but it failed to arrive, and as a result, the mercury went up 8 degrees, to 80, the maximum for the day. The minimum temperature was 63 degrees and the mean 72 degrees, making the mean temperature for the day just 1 degree below normal. There will probably be a rise of about 5 degrees in the temperature during today. From reports received last night, Kansas is still the warmest place in the country.

wife of Hermann Oelrichs, is the eldest of the heirs. Then came James, who died about 10 years ago. Charles was the third and the youngest was Virginia, the wife of W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr.

In the spring of 1894 Charles married Maude Nelson. The ceremony took place in Oakland and it was almost a secret one.

Mr. Fair was one of the three heirs to an estate estimated in value at between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. When informed of the tragic end of his brother-in-law, and his wife, this afternoon, Herman Oelrichs said:

"I am terribly shocked, but not surprised. I said only a few days ago that if Charles persisted in carrying on his experiments along this line the result would be fatal sooner or later. I have warned him repeatedly, but he always laughed and said there was no danger."

In a letter received last week, Mr. Fair said he intended sailing for the United States on August 26.

"Mr. Fair went to Europe to see what improvements had been made during the last year or two in automobiles," said Mr. Oelrichs. "He had purchased a new one, he said, that could sustain a speed of 85 miles an hour for several hours. It was built along radically new lines, and would be one of the first machines of its class to be imported into the United States."

Mr. Fair's lawyer, Mr. Haggerty, says the death of Charles Fair will not upset the present arrangements for the management of the Fair estate. The property is now managed by Herman Oelrichs.

Disposition of Property.

There is much speculation as to what will become of Charles Fair's share of the estate. On this point Mr. Haggerty says:

"Under the laws of California, when a couple are victims of a common calamity and both are between 16 and 70 years of age, and there is no evidence as to which died first, the man is presumed to have lived the longer. In such a case all the property would go to Mr. Fair's relatives.

"On the other hand, if there is evidence to show that Mrs. Fair lived longer than her husband, her relatives in the east would inherit the property involved."

Mr. Haggerty will not discuss the matter of the will.

From other sources it is learned that Charles Fair had a will which is now supposed to be in his safe here in San Francisco.

So little is known here of Mrs. Fair's relatives that Mr. Haggerty says he does not know where her heirs reside. It is supposed, however, that they live in New Jersey.

AIX LES BAINS, FRANCE, Aug. 14.—(Copyright Cable.)—A serious automobile accident occurred today near Burg-en-Bresse. Maurice Dollfus and the chauffeur were uninjured.

THE FIRST HOSPITALS.

American Steel & Wire Company Will Start With Braddock and Rankin.

The proposed emergency hospitals to be built by the American Steel & Wire company at its various plants, announced yesterday, have been under advisement by the company for several months and the physicians at the plants have been asked to give suggestions in writing as to the best method of erecting and equipping them.

The first hospitals will be erected at the Rankin and Braddock plants, owing to their distance from the Pittsburgh hospitals. The buildings will be modern in every detail. A trained nurse will be kept constantly on duty at each one of them and provisions made to keep sick or injured workmen in comfort at the plant for a long time should it be necessary.

The hospitals in general will be similar to the ones now maintained at the plants of the Carnegie Steel company, but much larger. Work is to be started on the Braddock and Rankin hospitals within a few weeks.

SHOOTING WAS A POPULAR PASTIME

DRUNKEN ITALIAN SENDS BULLET INTO A SALOON-KEEPER.

Louis Romaine Was Incensed When Told to Cease Varnishing Bar With Mustard. Tony Grander Shot at Brother and Almost Hit Baby.

Louis Romaine, an Italian, 25 years of age, of Duquesne, while drunk last night shot at and hit in the neck John Echard, 30 years of age, in the latter's saloon, corner of Talbot avenue and Eighth street, Braddock. Echard was not severely injured. Romaine was captured soon after the shooting as he was running through an alley.

Romaine was smearing the mustard on the end of the bar when he was told to desist by Echard and was then ordered out. He went outside and called that he had left his umbrella. Echard took the umbrella to him at the door and as Echard pushed open the screen Romaine fired once and ran.

The ball struck Echard in the neck, missing all vital points, and struck the door. Romaine will be prosecuted for felonious shooting. Echard came to Braddock three months ago from Connellsville.

Tony Grander had a little shooting last night in his boarding house in Brinton. Grander and his brother had some words and Tony shot at him twice. Both shots went wild, but one of them passed through the head of a bed but a few inches from the head of a sleeping child. Grander was arrested by Chief of Police J. A. Coulter.

FAMILY TURNED OUT.

Son Expels Mother and Sister from Home to Make Room for Bride.

Sarah Shannon, with her baby and aged mother, was found sitting in a fence corner on the Schenley estate in Oakland yesterday morning by Policeman Thomas Rohan. The officer found that the family had been turned out of its home in Sylvan avenue, the mother being so ill that she was unable to walk. All three were almost starved. Policeman Rohan called the patrol wagon and had them removed to the Oakland police station.

At the police station Mrs. Shannon said she was 28 years old and her mother 65. She said that until seven weeks ago the family lived in Sylvan avenue, and was supported by the woman's brother, who is employed in a steel plant in this city, and provided liberally for them. Recently he decided to get married, and notified his mother and sister that they would have to look elsewhere for a home, as he wanted to bring his bride there, and did not want the two women around to interfere with her.

Mrs. Shannon said they left the house, but, as they had no place to go, had been sleeping in stables, outhouses and often in the open. The little the women had to eat since being turned out was, they say, secured by begging. A physician who examined the elder woman said that she cannot live more than a week. The Western Pennsylvania Humane society has taken charge of the case and will probably have the three sent to Marshalsea. It is said the husband of the younger woman deserted her some time ago.

Stock Goes to Dilworth.

The final decree in the equity suit of DeWitt Dilworth against Arthur Kennedy and others, was filed by Judge McClung. It is ordered that, if Dilworth pays or tenders to Kennedy $22,416.67, with interest from January 11, 1900, within 30 days, the latter shall transfer 1,833 shares of full paid capital stock of the Indiana Railway Company and pay the costs of the proceedings. If Dilworth fails to do this the bill will be dismissed at his cost.

Mr. Sweeney was a member of Bellevue lodge of Masons. He had been pastor at Bellevue five years. During this time the membership more than doubled, and greater church work was done than ever before in the history of the congregation.

Mr. Sweeney entered the ministry in 1869, when he became a member of the Pittsburgh conference, with which he had been identified for 34 years. In this time he served the following charges: Mechanicsburg, 1868-70; Greenville, 1870-71; Florence, 1871-73; Peters Creek, 1874-75; Chartiers, 1875-76; Waynesburg, 1876-78; Freeport, 1878-81; Beaver Falls, 1882-84; Indiana, 1884-85; Oakland Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, 1885-89; McMasters, 1887-89; Latrobe, 1890-91; Indiana, 1892-97; and his last charge, Bellevue, 1897-1902.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner McGeary last evening held an inquest into the death of the Rev. Mr. Sweeney. The inquest was conducted at the residence of Mrs. Benner, a member of Dr. Sweeney's church, living at No. 243 Home avenue, Avalon.

Myrtle M. Sweeney, a daughter of the deceased, was called. She was so affected by her father's death that it was necessary to support her in a chair. Miss Sweeney said her father had been ill for a week. Twelve years ago, she said, he had a severe attack of the grip, which settled in his brain, this, in her opinion, causing a derangement of the mind. Since that time the slightest illness affected his brain.

Told of Attack.

Miss Sweeney said that upon August 7 last her father suddenly became unconscious at the building of the Methodist book concern, and since then had been troubled more or less with severe pains in the head.

Dr. J. S. Donaldson, who arrived at the residence at 5 a. m., said he found Dr. Sweeney almost lifeless. James Irwin, who arrived at the house at 6:30 a. m., told of the decedent's previous illness. He spoke highly of the minister's character and considered he would not have taken his life had he not have been suffering. A verdict of suicide was returned.

FELL FROM A BICYCLE INTO JAWS OF DEATH

William Waggoner, an Allegheny Boy, Met With an Accident That Will Result Fatally.

William Waggoner, aged 15 years, of No. 2810 Virginia avenue, Allegheny, was horribly injured by being run over by a street car at 8 o'clock last night. He will die. The boy was riding a bicycle in Perrysville avenue, near Daisy avenue, Allegheny, and was going at a lively pace when he collided with Joseph Miller, aged 16 years, who was also riding a wheel.

Both boys were thrown and Waggoner fell directly in front of a Perrysville avenue car, one of the front wheels of which passed over his right leg and severed it completely, near the thigh. His left leg was cut and bruised and his right arm broken.

The boy was hurriedly removed to the Allegheny General hospital in the car which injured him, but there is no hope for his recovery. The Miller boy was badly stunned by the collision, but otherwise escaped uninjured.

SEASHORE EXCURSION.

Estimated That Over 2,000 Persons Left Pittsburgh for Atlantic City Over B. & O. Yesterday.

Bound for the spot where cooling sea breezes blow, where the sea foods are of the best and the surf bathing is fine, over 2,000 persons from Pittsburgh and vicinity took advantage of one of the regular excursions over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yesterday and last night for Atlantic City.

The crowd that left the Baltimore & Ohio station yesterday morning was a record-breaking one, and it kept the employes of the company busy handling it. It was stated last night that it required 12 trains to handle the seashore traffic yesterday and last night, of which three were regular and nine were specials.

Seats in 17 parlor cars and berths in 30 sleepers were disposed of, and many passengers were dissappointed last night at not being able to engage sleeping apartments on the trains. Persons who had failed to get their berths in advance were left out entirely, and compelled to take the day coaches to the shore.

The first sections yesterday morning carried the greater crowds. Many prefer the day ride, going to the shore, and return at night. These excursions will be continued until the middle of September this year. On account of the extremely cool weather in August it is anticipated that a hot wave will reach here in September and on this account alone many persons are delaying their vacations as long as possible.

A PLAGUE OF FLEAS IS VISITED ON ALLEGHENY'S POSTAL WORKERS.

A mail bag from New York city received at the Allegheny postoffice yesterday caused no end of confusion in the gold-domed building that flanks the ancient city hall. Somehow or other several thousand fleas had made the bag their abiding place and as soon as they landed the little pests made an immediate attack on every person in the building. Last night some of the employes looked fit subjects for a municipal hospital.

The insects have left their marks on the hands and faces of every employe in the department. The mail sack arrived early in the morning and was opened by the night force. Instantly the swarm scattered about the room. They were not noticed until they began to settle about the room. Then they started to bite. They were still doing business when the day clerks put in an appearance, and not satisfied with preying on them, the fleas got out into the corridors and made it interesting for those who called for their mail.

News of the visitation got abroad. Several women called at the postoffice who had their pet dogs with them. When they learned of the presence of the fleas they gathered their pets under their arms and hurried to the windows and inquired quickly for their mail and then rushed out again. Postmaster James A. Grier has telegraphed to V. J. Bradley of the railway mail service at New York to learn who is responsible for this joke, if joke it is.

In the Nick-o'-Time---Flannel Waists

Wednesday being the coldest August day for over 30 years, and the prospect in front of us for continued cold weather—daytime as well as after dark—there is no more inviting subject for the present than that of Flannel Waists.

And we can sell you the best of Waists below usual prices.

Along this line the following are cited:

Flannel Waists in light and medium shades—neatly plain waists or waists in a series of fancy effects—$2 each for those worth $3. At $2.50 each waists easily worth $4.50.

See them for something decidedly comfortable from now on through the bleak season.

$3.00 Shoes for Women---Queen Quality.

When a manufactory for shoes turns out over 8,000 pairs of women's shoes in a single day, and then can scarcely keep up with its orders, it is pretty conclusive evidence that the shoe it makes is a prime favorite.

The Queen Quality people in Boston turn out more than 8,000 pairs of finished women's shoes each week day of the 52 weeks.

We carry 40 styles of their regulation shoes, now by common usage called boots.

Each style is $3. Each style can be had in all sizes and in all the leathers common to feminine footwear. Each style is worth at least $1 more than the great number of $3 shoes now on the market.

At present we are showing a number of early Autumn styles in patent ideal kid and dongola kid, and they are just as pleasing a looking shoe as women were ever asked to see. They have many new improvements. It is this constant betterment that makes Queen Quality so popular.

OXFORDS—We sell a great many women's oxfords the year round. With over-gaiters they are as dressy as can be. From this you will understand we always have a variety of Oxfords in stock.

The greater number of Queen Quality Oxfords sell for $2.50 a pair—a few special numbers for $3. We have just received a new Oxford to sell for $2.50, which is by far the best and the most stylish we have ever had for that price. The vamp of patent ideal kid, the top of bright kid; light weight sole; opera heel; neat comfortable toe. Suitable for either street or house wear.

It is scarcely necessary to say we make a specialty of children's oxfords, and oxfords for young ladies. At the present time we are selling these lines at greatly reduced prices. After the following—

Misses' sizes from 11½ to 2, that sold for $2.50 and $2.75, now $1.90.

Children's sizes from 8½ to 11, that sold for $2.25 and $2, now $1.50.

Little children's sizes from 5 to 8, that sold for $1.50, now $1.

These are the Staghead brand, and there is none better.

FIREMEN GAVE LARGE PARADE AT JEANNETTE

Twenty Thousand People Saw the Great Street Pageant.

MANY NOVELTIES IN LINE

Mascots Were Numerous and Music Was Abundant With Attractive Uniforms—McKees Rocks Gets Largest Company Prize.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Jeannette, Pa., Aug. 14.—This was the crowning day of the convention of the Western Pennsylvania Firemen's association. The parade was the longest ever seen at a like occasion. There were fully 20,000 people in the streets as the parade moved along its long line of march over about all the principal thoroughfares, from West Jeannette and back to the reviewing stands.

The day was delightfully cool. Sidewalks, windows and housetops all along the line were crowded with a jolly throng of sightseers, set in frames of flags and bunting, and as the firemen passed by in review they were loudly cheered.

Chief Marshal Albert Vogel gave the command to start. First came Chief of Police Frank Fritch and the Jeannette police force in platoon formation. The chief marshal and a half hundred aids came next, followed by D. R. Evans and 200 horsemen, citizens of Jeannette. Lafayette band was the first musical organization in line, and it was followed by the big local executive committee in two scores of carriages, all superbly decorated with red, white and blue. Past presidents and officers of the association in carriages followed, and then came the fire companies.

Uniontown was given the place of honor, head of the procession, with Madison Miners' band at its head. First came the hose company from the Fayette county seat, 30 strong, with the handsome hook and ladder truck, all in command of Chief Walter Smith. The firemen were in neat uniforms of blue and made a fine appearance. The Uniontown department rear was brought up by the Hill Top hook and ladder company, composed of 16 boys, aged about 16. They were in natty white flannel uniforms and were greeted with cheers on their excellent appearance.

Wilmerding Band Popular.

"There comes a band that can play" was heard on every hand as the Wilmerding Airbrake band of 50 instruments came swinging up the street. The band headed the Wilmerding department, 45 men in line, under Chief J. F. Richards, all in blue uniform. The New Kensington drum corps led the way next with the department from that town, 27 men in natty new uniforms, under Chief J. C. Monroe. Butler followed with 20 men under Capt. W. J. Heineman. Swift's military band of Allegheny led the way for the Sharpsburg department, 72 in line, under Chief Myers, one of the largest departments in line.

Latrobe, the place where the next convention will be held, sent 50 men and apparatus in command of Capts. Fry and Everett. There was applause long and loud and expressions of delight and approval as the McKees Rocks band came in sight, heading the department of 60 men; band and department uniformed in white flannel, undress military style, with caps and shoes of the same material. Chief Engel was in command, and he was kept busy acknowledging the plaudits of the thousands on the streets. The marching men hauled a truck that was elaborately decorated, and upon its seat were the mascots of the company, little Phil Barkhauser and George Geisel.

Following was the Connellsville band and Derry hose, 14 men, with Capt. S. P. Piper at their head. Millvale, 60 strong, in dark green uniforms, made a handsome appearance, following Maner's band, and Etna, 40 men, with Capt. Andrews, also came in for great applause for its fine marching qualities. Scottdale, 42 men and hose reel, under Chief J. A. Brookman, followed, and Turtle Creek No. 1, 60 men, were second to none in the estimation of the spectators. This company was uniformed in light blue and looked handsome in their marching with military precision. This company was in command of Capt. A. J. Johnston. Following was Miss Harriett Kennen in a cart drawn by "Jack," the dog mascot of the Turtle Creek firemen.

Old Relic in Line.

East Pittsburgh, 20 men in blue under Capt. W. C. Orr, followed, and then came Greensburg's handsome hook and ladder truck. Ye fire engine of old times next came in view. It was "Pat Lyon," an old pumper, man power. It was the first engine brought west of the Alleghenies, 107 years old, and Greensburg's most cherished possession. Latrobe's cornet band was at the head of the Greensburg department of 100 men under Capt. J. F. Withinger. Avalon had 40 men in line under Capt. W. A. Griscom, followed by the department's hose reel. Wilkinsburg followed, 35 men, under Capt. Elmer Sarver. The Connellsville band, 30 pieces, and New Haven hose company followed, the great coke town coming next with its goat and dog mascots, the pride of Capt. C. B. Stillwagon.

Homestead was represented by its new ladder truck, No. 1, in charge of Chief C. K. Price and A. J. Hill, foreman, the Chief Drum Corps, 45 men, and truck, also of the steel town, were in command of B. R. Culbertson. The Whitaker company of 50 men, in white and blue uniforms, were under Capt. Henry Yost. Duquesne came next and Evans City, 45 strong, in white and garnet uniforms.

Esplen, W. B. Bailey, chief, had 38 men in line in white duck trousers and black shirtwaists. This company had a truck in line and upon the seat was "Major," the company's bull dog. Turtle Creek and Pleasiin had a half hundred in line and the Kittanning company, of blue, was not far behind the best in appearance, while New Kensington had 66 men in line in Company No. 1 and 33 in "Good Will" company, in dark gray uniforms. Jeannette companies brought up the rear with four hose companies, a hook and ladder truck, about 200 men in all, including the Juvenile division and two companies of boys presenting the international fire departments in costumes of different nations and the "Darktown brigade."

The judges on the parade gave out their decision this evening. For the largest and best appearing company, McKees Rocks was awarded the first prize. This company took first prize at Uniontown last year. For the finest uniformed company, Chief Williams' company of Uniontown took the prize, and the Independent company of Homestead captured the prize for the finest truck in line. The Avalon company was awarded the prize for the finest hose cart, and the New Haven company was given first prize for the best hose wagon.

Firemen tonight are leaving town. Those remaining are interested in the races, which will take place tomorrow. The races promise to be exciting, as about $500 in cash prizes have been offered by the local committee.

ATLANTIC CITY.

All Ready for Flower Parade Today. Railroad Men Adjourn Without Discussing Mine Strike.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—Florists tonight began decorating the rolling chairs to be used in tomorrow's floral parade. The start will be from the Royal Palace hotel at 4 p. m. and the route will be along the boardwalk to the Hotel Agnew, countermarching there and returning to the judge's stand, near the ocean pier, where the procession will be reviewed and then dismissed.

The order of parade is as follows: Platoon of police, Guenther's band, hotel division, children's division, wheel chair division, band from the Steel pier, industrial division. Pittsburgh will be represented in the latter division by The Gazette. The route of the parade is about three miles long.

Did Not Discuss Strike.

The members of the executive and car service committees of the American Railway association today concluded their convention at the Royal Palace. The results were formulated into reports which will be submitted in October to the semi-annual convention of the whole association in Detroit.

A. W. Sullivan, president of the association, declared that no action was taken regarding the strike in the anthracite coal regions, as it was beyond their powers. He said that the committees discussed only routine matters.

Pittsburgh Baby Prize Winner.

Among the prize-winners at today's baby show on Young's pier was Frank Lawler of Pittsburgh. The voters decided that he was the cutest youngster on exhibition. The child's parents are now the proudest couple in Atlantic City.

Miss Rives as Editor.

Hallie Erminie Rives, the novelist, is having a new experience tonight, as well as troubles of her own. She is editing tomorrow morning's issue of the Atlantic City Sentinel, and will exercise entire control until the paper goes to press. The profits will be used for the benefit of the Atlantic City hospital, and incidentally the author of "Hearts Courageous" will be benefited by the widespread announcement of her enterprise.

CHAUTAUQUA.

Ex-Mayor Walbridge of St. Louis Takes Occasion to Boom World's Fair.

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 14.—(Special.)—The modern industrial conference was presided over today by the Hon. C. P. Walbridge, ex-mayor of St. Louis. Mr. Walbridge took for his subject "The Duty of Citizenship as Related to Industrial Advancement."

Suggested by international expositions, the speaker began by saying:

"The revolutionary war was not fought for reduction of taxes alone, but for individual rights. The recognition of individual manhood and responsibility and the living up to this principle is what I consider good citizenship, and without that there can be no industrial or any other kind of national advancement."

Then followed an interesting account of the purchase of "that vast, unknown, evil domain which the government cannot hope to develop in centuries," and the exposition which is to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the Louisiana purchase.

Madam Lydia Mountford gave a lecture on the villages of Palestine, and her company appeared in the costumes of the country.

Dr. George E. Vincent continued his lectures on Utopias, by discussing "today "Robert Owen and the New Moral World."

This evening the choir and quartet give a classical concert under the direction of Alfred Pallam, after which the Yale university men who are on the grounds gave an entertainment, including "The Yale Fence," which consists of tableaux representing student life at Yale as seen from the old historic fence so familiar to all students of the college. There was college songs and fraternity and college yells.

RULINGS WILL NOT ACCEPT AN UMPIRE'S RULING

Senatorial Candidate Says Committee Has No Right to Interfere.

PROMISES A REVOLUTION

Claims That Venango Would Rebel if Nomination Were to Be Thrown to Warren by Republican State Organization.

Col. Willis J. Hulings of Franklin, who is contesting with Senator H. H. Cumings of Warren for the Republican senatorial nomination in the Forty-eighth district, promises a political revolution in Venango if an attempt is made to have the state committee interfere in the selection of a candidate. The colonel is determined to have the nomination and Capt. Cumings is just as determined to secure a second term.

There is every evidence that a deadlock will result in the district. Several unsuccessful attempts have been made to nominate. The next conference will be held at Franklin on August 29. Col. Hulings was in Pittsburgh last evening and talked freely about the conditions in his district. Venango named him as her choice for senator and gave him the right to select his three conferees. Warren indorsed Senator Cumings for a second time, and likewise allowed him to name the men who are representing him in the district conference.

Four years ago the same men were the candidates. When the conference was held Hulings was serving his country as a brigadier general of volunteers in Porto Rico. It was argued that the government would probably continue to need his services for a couple of years, and it was deemed wise to nominate Cumings. This time, the colonel is on the ground and ready to fight for what he believes to be his rights.

Opposed to an Umpire.

In the course of a conversation with Col. Hulings last evening at the Monongahela house, he was emphatic in his declaration that he would not agree to the state committee sending an umpire into the district in the event of a deadlock. "The state committee has no right to interfere," said he. "We have been making nominations for the past 28 years in our district without the aid of the state committee. There is no reason for changing our custom this time and we do not propose to do so.

"For several weeks past I have been reading in the papers of Venango and Warren counties and those of Pittsburgh that ultimately the state committee would make the nomination by naming Cumings. These persistent reports lead one to believe that there must be some foundation for the announcement, and that it is possible that such a scheme for a settlement of the contest has been prearranged. It cannot be done with my sanction.

"We have rules in the district, and I will insist that they be adhered to. I hold that the state committee has no power to interfere. It is true that the state convention so changed the rules as to allow the appointment of an umpire, but the delegates from Warren and Venango counties who sat in that convention were not authorized by the Republicans of these counties to vote to change the rules.

Will Be a Revolution.

"In the event of the nomination of Cumings being made by the umpire I would not recognize that nomination, I say that such action would result in political revolution in Venango county. The people would not stand for the outrage. Should we find that a deadlock exists in our district, I will then have propositions to make looking toward a settlement, for we are thoroughly capable of managing our own affairs.

"It has been said that Gen. Charles Miller would control my actions in this matter. I do not have a better friend than Gen. Miller, but he does not control me politically, nor does he attempt to do so. We understand each other thoroughly. He has said to me that he would not endeavor to influence me in the making of this nomination. I am a bona fide candidate, and I am in this contest to a finish.

"Eight years ago, when Charles Short of Warren was nominated, Venango was promised that Warren would support a Venango man the next time. That promise was not kept the next time on the ground that the government needed my services in Porto Rico. This time this argument cannot be raised, and the nomination belongs to me. Cumings denies that the agreement was made eight years ago, but I know that it was. Warren has had the office for eight years, and it has not been the custom of the district to allow one county to have the senatorship for three successive terms."

Congressional Conferences.

J. A. Berkey of Somerset and ex-Senator D. F. Walton of Greene were at the Monongahela house last evening, awaiting the arrival of A. F. Cooper of Fayette. The gentlemen are rival Republican candidates for congress in the Twenty-third district and are meeting here to select a date and place for a conference. With Berkey were A. F. Dickey and County Chairman E. E. Fritts of Somerset. Mr. Cooper will reach the city this morning.

Mr. Berkey says that Mr. Cooper has agreed to accept the conferee system of nominating. Fayette at first refused to join with Somerset and Greene in the adoption of this plan on the ground that it was the larger county and should have the greater representation in the conference.

Both Berkey and Walton say that they have not formed any combinations. It is possible that Walton has a slight advantage over his rivals because of the fact that Fayette and Greene comprise the same senatorial district and there is a senator to be elected this fall. John P. Teagarden has the indorsement of Greene and W. E. Crow is the candidate of Fayette.

Some people think that Greene will nominate Crow, and that in return Fayette will give Walton the nomination for congress. While Mr. Walton is hopeful that things will work out in this manner, he does not predict that they will. He does not claim to control Mr. Teagarden, but remarks that they have always been friends and that Greene cannot expect to get both nominations. There is reason for suspecting that Mr. Berkey is of the opinion that Teagarden will not sacrifice his ambitions in the interest of Walton. The success of Walton hangs largely on the generosity of Teagarden and the ability of Crow's friends to have Cooper reciprocate. Several senatorial conferences have been held and no date has been fixed for the next one.

May Meet in Pittsburgh.

Both Walton and Berkey are favorable to holding their congressional conferences in Pittsburgh. This will probably be done, unless Cooper should have serious objection to meeting outside of the district.

The Bedford-Somerset-Fulton senatorial district has a senator to nominate this summer. So far the conference has failed to agree. There will be another effort at Bedford on August 20. The candidates are J. W. Endsley, Somerset; Representative W. C. Miller, Bedford, and R. M. Patterson, Fulton. The district is now represented by Senator John Weller, who was elected from Bedford and is living in Pittsburgh. Previous to his election Somerset had the senatorship for eight years and Bedford is claiming two terms. Fulton is small and Democratic, and cannot hope for recognition. Berkey may find a way of making the senatorship nomination aid him in his congressional fight.

In Punxsutawney on September 16 the congressional conference of the Indiana-Armstrong-Jefferson-Clarion district will convene. Congressman S. M. Jack of Indiana will ask for a third term. W. O. Smith of Punxsutawney is the candidate of Jefferson. Maj. Joseph G. Beale has the indorsement of Armstrong and a son of ex-Congressman James D. Moffett of Clarion is put forward by that county.

In the event of the failure of Jack to capture a third term Smith is looked upon as the probable nominee. Maj. Beale can be expected to make a hard fight, but Clarion and Indiana are more likely to go to Smith than to him. R. M. Matson of Brookville has been nominated by the Democrats of this district. There are no senatorial fights in the district to be used to the advantage of any of the candidates.

Recorder Brown left Pittsburgh last evening. He said that he was going to Cambridge, but it is said that if he had glanced at his transportation he would have seen that it read "Buffalo." This gave reason for the suspicion that he was going to Georgian bay to see the other machine leaders, but County Commissioner W. W. Murray says that they will be home this morning.

Brown said that he was sure that the Union party would indorse the organization county ticket.

It has been said that the Union party would have to get signers to a petition to nominate a ticket in this county or in the state. This is incorrect, as the Union party polled the requisite number of votes last fall and could certify its state and county nominees in the same manner as the old parties. Commissioner Murray says that in the make-up of the ballot the Citizens' party would be placed in the last column, the Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Socialist-Labor and Union all taking precedence owing to their age.

Big Citizens Meeting.

The Citizens held a meeting last night in Blue Ribbon hall, McKeesport, which was attended by 1,000 people. Ex-Mayor R. T. Carothers was elected chairman. The vice chairmen were Daniel Stratton, W. C. Soles and George T. Herwick; treasurer and secretary, R. W. Eaton and Robert Ballie. An executive committee of two from each precinct was named to work for the organization. Another executive committee, for McKeesport proper, was named as follows: J. D. O'Neil, president; J. D. Hershey, secretary; J. A. Stone, C. L. Noble and J. J. Bedell.

The speakers of the evening were W. S. Woods, George H. Stengel, David S. Collingwood, Robert Heath, J. W. Brown, James Macfarlane, Samuel G. Bailey, James Ewans, R. J. Cunningham, Charles O'Donnell and J. D. O'Neil. All are candidates on the Citizens ticket with the exception of Charles O'Donnell.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. RAILROADS ARE NOW DRAWING LINES OF BATTLE

Pennsylvania and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh Fight for Tonnage.

WABASH MAY JOIN ISSUE

Mutual Interest is Likely to Draw Goulds and Iselins Into Alliance Against Pennsylvania — Indiana County Scene of First Struggle.

The Pennsylvania railroad and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh are locking horns over the tonnage of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company. That company has begun the erection of an immense steel plant near Buffalo, N. Y.

Its ultimate plans contemplate the establishment of plants for the manufacture of rails, structural and finished steel of all kinds at that point that will make Buffalo second only to Pittsburgh as a steel and iron center. The company owns immense iron ore beds in the Mesaba range and will be able to ship its ore direct to docks, near Buffalo, in close proximity to its furnaces, thus saving the freight charges for its ore trains in which respect it will have an advantage over its competitors.

On the other hand, not being able to secure the necessary fuel supplies near Buffalo, it has invested millions in the purchase of virgin coal fields in Indiana and Cambria counties, its holding running well up toward 40,000 acres.

Cause of the Fight.

It will, within a few weeks open an immense coal and coke operation near Vintondale, Cambria county, and further developments at Wehrum and other points along the Blacklick creek fields in Indiana county are now being pushed. The mines will be among the largest in the world, and several coke plants will be established at points along this stream.

This coal and coke must be taken to the furnaces and mills at Buffalo and it is this tonnage that is precipitating the struggle between the Pennsylvania and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh.

The Pennsylvania railroad has already work far advanced on a line from Cresson, on the main line, to Social Hall, on the West Penn. This line passes through Vintondale and follows Blacklick creek for almost its entire course, tapping the projected coal openings of the Lackawanna company.

When the mines begin operations, which will be within the year, the tonnage will be immense, and the Pennsylvania has planned to carry it all via the West Penn and Buffalo and Allegheny Valley divisions.

Is Pushing the Work.

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, which is now pushing its lines into Indiana county, in order to develop the coal holdings of the Rochester & Pittsburgh Coal and Iron Company, will also make a bid for the business of the Lackawanna company, and to that end has numerous corps of engineers working on lines from Indiana, the terminus of its road as now under construction, to Blacklick creek, a distance of some 11 miles, and plans a line directly up that stream, for the purpose of securing its share of the tonnage resulting from the development of the coal fields.

The construction of this line is being bitterly opposed by the Pennsylvania, and the resultant conflict is likely to bring the Iselins, who control the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh, into alliance with the Wabash interests as a measure of mutual advantage.

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh now reaches Pittsburgh by means of the tracks of the Pittsburgh & Western, with which it has an agreement that has some years yet to run. The Pittsburgh & Western made this agreement while independent of Pennsylvania control, under which it has since come.

Must Make Alliance.

When the agreement expires, unless it is able to make arrangements with some other line, the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh can be shut out of Pittsburgh, except for the costly proposition of building a line of its own from Butler, where it now joins the Pittsburgh & Western.

The Wabash is busily seeking outlets to the eastward from Pittsburgh, and the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh will, in the near future, be driven into some sort of alliance to prevent its being entirely cut off from the rich tonnage of the Pittsburgh district by the refusal of the Pennsylvania to sanction a renewal of its agreement with the Pittsburgh & Western.

The alliance between the Gould and Iselin interests, while it is not yet an accomplished fact, seems to be the most easy method of solving the problem and killing two birds with one stone.

The Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh is looking for an ally in its present struggle for the Lackawanna tonnage, and that resulting from other operations now under construction and planned in and about Indiana and Cambria counties, which in the future will be the leading sections of the state in coal production.

Wabash Route Still Undecided.

Reports to the contrary notwithstanding, it is not believed that the Wabash has definitely settled on its routes to the coast. There is every reason to believe that the proposed line via the old South Penn route cannot be utilized. It was at first thought that a legal attack might undermine the validity of the rights of way along this route, but investigation carried on at Somerset showed differently.

It is understood, therefore, that the Wabash is open for propositions as to eastern routes, and that even if the line to connect with the Western Maryland in Southern Pennsylvania is built, an acceptable freight route to New York, Boston and other more northerly seaports, will be looked upon with favor.

Owing to its friendly standing with the Vanderbilt interests the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh is prepared to offer an additional route via the Beech Creek and a line to tap that road at or near its present terminus, Grant, Indiana county, will furnish the lowest grade possible for a crossing of the Alleghanies, showing water grades on a comparatively straight line from the Allegheny to the Susquehanna.

Shipments have already begun on the contract let to the Carnegie Company for the structural steel of the first great plant of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company at Buffalo. The steel alone will cost $700,000. Work will be pushed, and the contracts for the necessary machinery have also been let. It is a matter of but a few months until the plant will be in full operation. This plant will be used for the manufacture of steel rails, of which there is now a pronounced shortage.

The Lackawanna company has recently increased its capital from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000, and all of this is to be used in the erection of its new plants, and the development of its recently acquired coal fields.

BARBED WIRE USED AS BARRICADES

PEASANTS STRONGLY BATTLE AGAINST SCHOOL CLOSING.

Reinforcements Being Sent to Brest to Carry Out Decree—Cabinet Discusses Affair as Royalist Uprising—Prosecutions Are Promised.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BREST, FRANCE, Aug. 14.—Soldiers and gendarmes left here last evening to protect the commissaries in closing religious schools at Plougonvelin and Ploumoguer, Finisterre, and the schools were closed this morning. It was rumored at first that the troops were going to St. Meen and Folgoet, and the peasantry flocked to those places, remaining on guard until 6 o'clock this morning, when it was learned that the soldiers had gone to Plougonvelin and Ploumoguer.

At Ploudaniel the barricade of carts, which barred the way to the sisters' school, has been replaced by a network of barbed wire. Pointed stakes have been driven into the ground to injure the horses of the gendarmes. In addition a moat has been dug in front of the school door and filled with filth.

The gendarmes met with strong resistance at Ploughonvelin from the assembled crowd, who unhorsed one of their number. It took the gendarmes an hour and a half to force the barricades erected in front of the school in that village.

Numerous detachments of gendarmes are arriving at Brest to assist the commissaries in their work of closing the unauthorized schools.

PARIS, Aug. 14.—The cabinet met at the Elysee palace today. Premier Combes communicated reports on the situation in Finisterre, one of them being from the superior of the congregation of the Holy Ghost, to which the resisting sisters belong.

In this report the superior said the sisters had been ordered twice to leave their schools, but these orders had not been obeyed, owing to opposition by the peasantry and by the owners of the properties in which the schools are situated.

M. Combes declared that official reports showed that the agitation over the closing of schools in Finisterre was purely a royalist movement. There had been grave occurrences, said the premier, which came within the penal laws and which would result in prosecutions, instructions for which had been sent to the procureur-general.

COMMERCIAL MUSEUM MAY BE NATIONALIZED

Opposition by Mercantile Agencies Leaves Institution in a Position Where It Must Have Support.

To discuss the proposed nationalization of the Commercial museum in Philadelphia, C. A. Green, the assistant director of the institution, has come to Pittsburgh. Mr. Green desires to consult with the chamber of commerce, which has always supported the museum. It is feared that unless the government undertakes the conduct of the museum it may have to be abolished.

American manufacturers have profited by the work of the museum, but it appears that there is no intention to ask the manufacturers to support it entirely themselves. Mr. Green will confer with Secretary George H. Anderson of the chamber of commerce and probably some of the directors. It is possible that a meeting of the chamber may be called to take action on Mr. Green's proposition. The nationalization of the museum will include the removal of the Washington institution.

The museum was established in 1893. It contains exhibits of manufactured goods from all over the continent and foreign countries. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has given to the museum the use of excellent show rooms and the city of Philadelphia has accorded it annual support, and until within the past two years congress has annually appropriated $250,000. The fact that congress has not for two years made the annual appropriation is ascribed by the directors of the museum to the mercantile agencies, which assert that it is their business to furnish the information which the museum supplies.

Philadelphia, it appears, has become restless and is disposed to cut off its annual appropriation, too, on the ground that the city ought not to help maintain an institution from which the entire country derives benefit. The question now is, whether the museum shall go out of existence for want of support or be taken up by the government.

It is suggested that the museum be incorporated with the proposed national department of commerce, or that it be maintained by the government as the Smithsonian institute is maintained.

"The commercial museum does not interfere with the mercantile agencies," said Secretary Anderson yesterday. "It has correspondents in foreign cities in which an American export trade might be developed. Any citizen, on payment of a small fee, may secure any information in the possession of those correspondents. The Pittsburgh chamber of commerce believes in the museum and helps to support it. We have secured from the museum information that was simply invaluable to the manufacturers of Pittsburgh."

A Delightful Home Wedding.

The ceremony, which was only attended by the immediate friends of the bride and groom, was performed by Rabbi A. M. Ashinsky. Miss B. Silken, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and A. Solof best man. Mr. and Mrs. Blatt left for a short trip in the east. Upon their return they will reside at their home in Cliff street.

Gypsy Fair at Sheraden.

The first evening of the gypsy fair and concert which is being given by the intermediate Epworth league of Sheraden for the benefit of the First Methodist Episcopal church, on the postoffice lawn, was a success in every way. Refreshments were served by a band of 15 little gypsies from the league, dressed in pretty gypsy costume. A different program has been arranged for this evening.

IN ALLEGHENY ROBBERS WORK BY DAYLIGHT

Residence in Beech Avenue Completely Ransacked by Burglars.

NO FEAR OF INTERRUPTION

After Packing Up $500 Worth of Bric-a-Brac for Hauling Away Later in Wagon They Walked Off With Silverware Worth $200.

That Allegheny is still a gathering place for the worst criminals in the country was demonstrated Wednesday afternoon, when the residence of Mrs. Letitia H. Parke of No. 851 Beech avenue was entered and several hundred dollars' worth of silverware taken. The thieves anticipated a rich haul, as the family is out of the city spending the summer vacation.

The burglars were partly disappointed, however, as the most valuable contents of the house had been placed in safety vaults. The thieves were so free from fear of interruption that they packed up a quantity of valuable bric-a-brac, with the intention of returning to the house and hauling it away in a wagon. This was prevented by the return of one of the family, who reported the robbery to the city detectives, and it is not at all likely that the thieves will return to the house.

The residence was entered at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The burglars effected the entrance through the kitchen window at the rear of the house. They had a splendid opportunity to do this, as this portion of the house is screened by heavy vines.

'Twas Daylight Work.

With a brace and bit they bored holes in the shutters just over the latch, and enlarging the auger hole with a chisel they easily raised the latch, and opened the shutter. The catch on the window was broken and they entered the house.

The burglars then deliberately ransacked the house. The drawers in every bureau, dressing-table and sideboard were taken out and the contents scattered on the floor.

It was evident that the burglars went through the upper portion of the house first. They could be traced from room to room. The drawers in the bedrooms were pulled out and clothing of all descriptions was tossed on the floor.

The rooms on the first floor were ransacked in the same manner. A quantity of silverware was taken, amounting to about $200. In addition to this, the burglars took a number of small stick pins and other pieces of jewelry of slight value. They had also made preparations to take away a quantity of valuable bric-a-brac. They had packed about $500 worth in sheets and blankets, and left in the dining-room. It was evidently their intention to return with a vehicle and haul it away.

Robbery Was Discovered.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Parke's sister-in-law, Mrs. Howard, went to the house to get some clothing to send to the family and to her utter surprise found the house had been ransacked. She immediately went to the Allegheny Central police station and reported the case to the authorities.

Detectives were sent there to make an investigation, but they were unable to learn anything that would lead to the detection of the burglars. The bric-a-brac that they had so carefully packed was unpacked yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Howard.

The police passed this house continually during the day, but as far as could be learned last night, they had seen no suspicious persons about there on that afternoon, although the neighbors had.

The robbery has excited the residents in that neighborhood and two special watchmen have been employed to look after the safety of their property, in spite of the fact that Allegheny has a large detective and police force.

Tax Rate Was Increased—The commissioners of Stowe township have increased the tax rate from 2 to 9 mills. This is considered as a direct attack on the Pressed Steel Car company, the largest property owner in the township.

Greensburg Man Injured—James McCoy, 53 years old, of Greensburg, had his skull fractured yesterday morning while working in the Mt. Washington section of the Wabash railroad tunnel. He is at the Homeopathic hospital in a critical condition.

Was Found Dead in Bed—Mrs. Winnie Gleat, 57 years old, a milliner of Wylie avenue and Federal street, was found dead in bed early yesterday morning. It is supposed that she died of heart failure, as she had been troubled with that complication for some time.

Boy Bitten by Pet Dog—Thomas Slalter, 8 years old, of Knox street, Allegheny, was bitten on the cheek yesterday morning as he was getting out of bed by a pet dog. Dr. T. A. Miller, who was called to attend the boy, said he fears the injury will prove fatal.

Italian Was Discharged—Phillipo Missino, the Italian who was arrested on Wednesday with a United States mail sack in his possession, was discharged yesterday and the bag was retained by the authorities. Missino explained that he got the bag at a fire two years ago in New York.

Taking Out Licenses—A large number of Pittsburgh business men are taking out licenses for trading in Wilkinsburg. Some objections have been made by business men who have wagons running in the borough, but so far the majority have secured licenses without making any fuss about the tax.

Died of His Injuries—Harry Wagoner, 28 years old, of Walnut street, Wilkinsburg, who was struck by a train on the Pennsylvania railroad Wednesday night, died of his injuries yesterday morning at the West Penn hospital. He was to have been married shortly to one of the most estimable young women of Wilkinsburg.

Ordinance Officer Sued—John E. Walsh, an Oakland contractor, yesterday made information against R. H. Lindsay, city ordinance officer, charging him with false pretense before Alderman William F. Walsh of the West End. According to the information, Walsh says Lindsay went to the office of Booth & Flinn and represented that he was associated in business with the prosecutor. Upon the strength of this, the information sets forth, Lindsay drew $82.35 due from the firm to Walsh. It is claimed by Walsh that the books of Booth & Flinn show Lindsay receipted for the money.

Died in the Hospital—An unknown man who was struck by a train on the Pennsylvania railroad at West Wilkinsburg at an early hour yesterday morning, died at the West Penn hospital. He is still unidentified. He is about five feet five inches in height, white, and weighs 135 pounds. He is dark complected and had a mustache.

Settlement Coming Soon—Vice President Urish Bellingham of the miners' union said yesterday that the coal miners' strike at the mines along the West Penn railroad would be settled in a short time. Negotiations were going on, he said; each side was making concessions, and in a short time the mine owners would recognize the union.

Boy Was Held for Court—Eugene P. Klein, the 18-year-old boy who is accused of sending an obscene letter through the mails to Miss Dora Frank of Elwood street, had a hearing yesterday before United States Commissioner Stephen C. McCandless and was held for the United States court in $200 bail. The letter was mailed from Donora and the girl's father secured it. Klein works in Donora.

To Explain Bond Issue—E. M. Schlag, president of Millvale council, at the request of council and the burgess, has called three public meetings to explain to the voters the reason for the $75,000 bond issue, which will be voted on next Tuesday. The first meeting will be held this evening in the Franz Abt hall in Sedgwick street, tomorow evening one will be held in the Millvale opera house and Monday evening in Whitehouse hall.

The Week's Death Roll—There were 170 deaths in Pittsburgh during the week ending August 9. Based on this the annual death rate is 25.23 per 1,000. Of the total number of deaths 56 were of infants under 1 year old. Diarrhoea caused 29 deaths and typhoid fever 9. Three deaths were reported from the municipal hospital from smallpox. There were 124 cases of infectious diseases reported during the same period, 80 being of typhoid fever, 21 of scarlet fever, 15 of diphtheria and 18 of smallpox.

Must Clip the Weeds—Burgess Horner of Wilkinsburg has started another crusade against residents of the borough who allow weeds to grow along the sidewalks. The matter was brought to the attention of the burgess by the women of the town, who claim that their clothing is ruined by coming in contact with the grass and weeds along the sidewalks. The burgess notified the borough policeman to inspect the streets against which complaints have been made and make information against offending residents.

Mother Does Not Believe It—Mrs. Mary Jones of Grandview avenue, East Pittsburgh, mother of Charles E. Jones, who is alleged to have married a girl in Oil City and deserted her, said yesterday that her son had gone to Oil City on August 2 to see his sister, and that he is still there. She said she had received a letter yesterday from her daughter, and, because she said nothing about Charles being married she knew it could not be so. Mrs. Jones said her son is 24 years of age and a brakeman on the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad.

INTERESTING TALK ABOUT TEXAS OIL FIELDS

W. E. Griffith, a prominent oil operator, who for the last year has been at the head of the J. M. Guffey Company's leasing department in Texas, returned from Beaumont yesterday. He says the oil business in Southeastern Texas is getting in better shape, but that the transportation facilities are still a source of annoyance and delay in getting the oil to distributing points. Those owning private tank cars are in but little better shape than others, for the reason that the railroads simply appropriated everything in sight and when a company sent out a consignment there was no telling when the car would be returned to the owner's siding.

About 82 wells on Spindle Top have been put to pumping. These, he stated, are owned by the larger companies and one-fourth of the number is owned by the J. M. Guffey Petroleum Company.

One of Mr. Griffith's motives for visiting Pittsburgh at this time is for the purpose of formulating plans for pumping the wells not owned by the larger companies. Many of the wells are located on small lots, not having sufficient space to hold a standard rig. The plant, if the project as contemplated goes through, will be on a large scale and operated from a central power, such as is very generally in use in the California and eastern fields.

For more than a month no oil has been taken out of the Spindle Top wells except that which has been raised by the pumps. The compressed air method of making the wells flow is no longer practical.

Mr. Griffith is of the opinion that the future of the oil industry in Southeastern Texas is not dependent upon the Beaumont pool. Louisiana, just across the Texas line, has a development at Jennings that looks promising. At Anse La Butte, La., 50 miles east of Jennings, Morrest Bros. of Jeanerette have drilled a 50-barrel well at a depth of 600 feet.

Mr. Griffith showed a telegram he had received from Beaumont yesterday morning, in which it was stated that a gusher had just been drilled in at Welsh, 15 miles west of the Jennings development.

The price of oil, he said, had been advanced and he does not think there are any sales now at less than 25 cents a barrel, and next month it will be 35 cents a barrel. In his opinion Texas oil at 75 cents a barrel is the cheapest fuel that can be used in that country.

In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company has drilled in its test on the William Price farm. The well produced 30 barrels the first 24 hours and is still drilling.

West of Blacksville, Green county, Pa., the South Penn has shot its No. 2 on the Samuel S. Eddy farm, but it did not respond. It is still producing 30 barrels a day. In the same district No. 1, McClellan and No. 2 Henderson are due in the sand.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, W. Va., the Southern Oil Company has shot its No. 1 on the Alexander Riley farm and increased its production to 500 barrels a day. In the same locality the Eastern Oil Company's No. 3 Ritter heirs' is holding up at 125 barrels a day and O'Day Bros. & Guthen's No. 2 E. W. Custer, at 90 barrels a day.

In the lower end of the Gordon sand district, in Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 1 P. Starkey; No. 8, Gering, Robinson, and No. 1, C. Hayhurst, are holding up at 100, 110 and 125 barrels a day respectively. Miller Bros.' No. 1, E. A. Talkington, is producing 300 barrels a day.

On McFarland creek, Murphy district, E. W. Wilson & Co. are drilling a test on the Charles Kemp farm. On Samuel run, Slushinger & Co. have completed a test on the H. S. Wilson farm and have a small pumper. On Barr run, Grant district, Darr, Moore & Wilson are drilling a test on the A. D. Arnett farm.

On White Oak creek, Union district, the Carter Oil Company is drilling a test well on the W. J. Lether farm. On Spruce creek the same company is drilling a test on the G. W. Bivney farm.

In the Jackson Ridge district, Monroe county, Ohio, the Fure Oil Company has completed its first well since taking possession of a part of the Fisher Oil Company's property. The well just drilled in is No. 17 on the John T. Mefflt farm, and is good for 10 barrels a day from the Keener sand.

In the Cross Creek district, Jefferson county, Charles Brown's Sons have completed No. 5 on the Charles Brown farm and will have a small pumper.

TWELVE PAGES.

Odd Interpretation of Right.

Another riot has occurred in the anthracite coal region, accompanied by shooting and serious injury of several persons. The immediate provocation was a resumption of work at a washery under protection of deputies. The place was surrounded by a mob, stones were thrown and finally an attack made upon the stockade. Then the deputies fired and the injuries resulted.

The peculiar phase of the matter is the claim by the mine workers that the deputies are wholly to blame for the trouble. It is probable no one would have been seriously injured had the deputies withheld their fire, but it is a strange interpretation of law and a queer idea of order to hold that a stone-throwing mob is not to blame for casualties within its own ranks. Possibly the deputies were frightened and displayed bad judgment, but they were certainly within the bounds of the law in firing upon an attacking mob. It appears well-nigh impossible to get some people to understand that there is no legal or moral principle to uphold threatening demonstrations intended to intimidate men who are willing to work without the sanction of a labor union. Yet such is the fact. The law must protect such men in their right to labor, and every demonstration against the freedom of labor is an offense against the law and the spirit of American institutions.

Instructive Competition.

The struggle between the railroads for the coal and coke tonnage of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel Company in Indiana county is instructive. It indicates that some of the excess "harmony of interests" may be eliminated from the situation with benefit to shippers in general. It is even more interesting in the light of the Lackawanna's one reason for removing from Scranton to Buffalo, namely, the lack of railroad facilities and competition at the former place.

Removal and reconstruction of plant have cost the Lackawanna company considerably more than $1,000,000. Some expense has been offset by modernizing of equipment. But the net cost of changing location is not less than the sum named, which must be compensated, if at all, solely by better and cheaper transportation. No doubt the railroads at Scranton have begun to realize the mistake of killing the goose that laid the golden eggs, while the railroads in Indiana county are appreciating the advantages of having the traffic. Doubtless, too, the Scranton case has had its influence in bringing the railroads in the Pittsburgh district to the understanding that it is in their interest to expand their ability to handle the largest tonnage in the world.

Honor to Whom Honor Is Due.

No incident connected with King Edward's return to health and to active participation in the affairs of his kingdom has been more significant than the treatment accorded the representatives of the Boer army who have been the guests of the English government. These battle-scarred heroes have been hailed on every side as men of distinguished valor, and no attention has been neglected that would make their stay in England agreeable. It may be safely assumed that Edward himself has been the instigator of most of the courtesy and honor that has been showered upon the Boer generals. It indicates the true spirit of a chivalrous and democratic ruler and should forever silence the efforts so persistently made to discount the Boers as a race and discredit their valor and heroism as soldiers by that portion of the British public that so long "pooh-pooed" the war in South Africa as a trivial affair.

England paid £228,600,000 in treasure and sacrificed thousands of lives in an effort to subdue the Transvaal colonies, but if she has learned afresh the noble lesson that simple faith and courage are better than Norman blood the price will have not been paid in vain and her future sovereignty in South Africa will have been put upon a basis of enduring strength and character.

Abuses of Public Confidence.

Throughout the country comment has been excited by Controller Larkin's computation of city funds in depositaries and the difference in interest paid to the city and that collected from private borrowers. In almost every city it is noted the same conditions exist, the amounts in many being larger than in Pittsburgh. In some no interest is paid to the city, as was the case here until a very few years ago, the payment of interest being the outcome of one of those reform movements so often contemptuously referred to by machine orators.

It is thus made evident that an interest "rake-off" is one of the favorite resources of the machine politicians wherever they happen to have sway. It is not to be supposed that it is an ordinary practice to collect interest on public deposits after the direct manner that resulted in the prosecution and conviction of two city officials in this city a few years ago. But there are indirect methods that are safer for the beneficiaries but no less effective in producing revenue. One of these is the contribution of funds for campaign purposes by concerns deriving benefit from the use of public funds to influential politicians who may control the selection of depositaries.

The private farming of public funds is near akin to that other most monstrous abuse of political power, the grant of public franchises without public compensation for private property. It would be impossible to compute the millions that have been filched from the public by these devices. It is an encouraging sign of progress that these things are widely discussed. Publicity is the enemy of chicanery in every case. When the people begin talking about real abuses from which they suffer the end of those abuses is in sight. The rascals are under the necessity of inventing something new, or relinquishing their unfair advantage.

Watterson, the Great Appalled.

Col. Watterson's declaration that he is "appalled by the conditions which the successful candidate for office must meet and overcome" in Kentucky is calculated to amuse. The hero of a hundred after-dinner speeches has been in Kentucky politics so long that there is little of it that is news to him. He has been in the thick of it since a time when a majority of the voters of the United States were children, and many of them were not born when he took his first dip. Notwithstanding which Marse Henry has never been observed with a clothes pin on his nose, even when in closest association with the "rogues and cheats" he now professes to abhor. But at present, of course, he is looking the situation "full in the eye," which is different, the other eye probably meanwhile indulging in a portentous wink. Gazing into this one-eyed situation he finds servility to be practiced, obligations to be incurred, personal solicitation that is ignoble and humiliating, the use of money (horrible thought) and the machine to be captured and then employed, "with all that this implies," should he consent to run for governor. It is enough to make an ordinary mortal shrink from the game, but why Marse Henry should shrink except as a bit of stage play is one of those things no fellow can find out. Birds of a feather naturally flock together, and Marse Henry has been a bird of a feather too long to flock by himself for the mere fun of shrinking. It would be great to be governor, but it is safer and more spectacular to be appalled. A governor must make good or suffer consequences. A great appalled doesn't need to do anything but pose, and the limelight is turned on full and the press notices keep the scissors editor of the Louisville Courier Journal busy, while the editorial writers, ably directed by the appalled one, make it clear by hint and innuendo, if not by direct and positive statement, that the colonel is the greatest thing that ever happened, or at least would be if he would only uncork that reserve power and let it flow.

Is it any wonder, therefore, that the old-time chaperon of the star-eyed goddess shrinks and is appalled? It doesn't cost him a cent and there is glory in it that wealth beyond the dreams of avarice couldn't buy. It also makes Marse Henry feel powerful happy and does no harm to anyone. The Augean stables of the Kentucky Democracy go on smelling in the same old way, and they will continue to smell unless the tide of Republicanism rises high enough to wash them out. It is a sure thing that the gallant colonel won't shed tears enough over them to accomplish any such result, and thus put himself out of business.

A Pretty Romance Spoiled.

It appears that Le Matin had very little basis for the series of articles it has been printing on the alleged love affairs of the Crown Prince Frederick of Germany and Miss Gladys Deacon. For several days that Paris journal has entertained its readers with a serial narrative, which turns out to be almost entirely a work of the imagination, and the cable has promptly informed the rest of the world of the movement of the plot. But Mrs. Deacon wrote to the editor, protesting that there was absolutely no foundation for the articles, and begging him not to mention her daughter's name again.

Le Matin has simply been rehabilitating a rumor that was afloat last year, when the crown prince visited England. He met Miss Deacon and was attentive to her, and it was thought that the kaiser called him back to Germany rather hurriedly for fear he might be paying too much attention to the pretty girls he found in London. Frederick is an impressionable young man, just turned his 20th year. The Berlin correspondent of the London Telegraph says that the crown prince has a habit of falling in love with nearly every good-looking girl he talks to, and it is considered in Berlin that this wholesale distribution of affection renders him immune from matrimony for awhile.

The whole pretty romance is spoiled by Mrs. Deacon's announcement that her daughter is engaged to someone else and will be married in six months. The idea that the prince would renounce his heirship to the imperial crown in order to wed his heart's desire was very touching, but there is nothing in it. Future emperors don't do such things nowadays. With the denial of Mrs. Deacon also goes glimmering the story that her daughter refused to return to the kaiser's successive representatives the ring bestowed upon her by the prince and which he had received from his great-grandmother, Queen Victoria, but that finally she threw it in the face of one of the emperor's envoys.

The crown prince may go on falling in love, but some day he will marry a bride selected by his imperial papa, and let us hope that he will be happy ever after.

Mexico and the Gold Dollar.

It is pleasing to know that Mexico is prospering. In the past two years a great deal of capital has been expended in the development of the natural resources of the country. Building operations in the capital have been large, ports on the gulf have been improved, and there has been great activity in mining. It is not native capital that has aroused Mexico into life. Foreigners have carried money into the country for investment, and this has been done in spite of the silver standard of the nation.

These same foreigners are now hesitating about further commitments, in the hope that the gold standard will be established. They are working under difficulties with a dollar that fluctuates in value, and which last week touched the lowest point ever known. They are bringing pressure to bear on the Mexican government to adopt a stable currency. They point out that importers cannot make calculations regarding future prices, and that this uncertainty prevents the fullest measure of business activity. Many large contracts are being held back to see what the government will do.

Under the gold standard Mexico would enter upon a prosperous career, and it would seem to be only a question of time when that basis will be established. Possibly by the time the next presidential campaign is in full swing in the United States the silver Mexican dollar will have lost its didactic value as the frightful example in the world's coinages.

Porto Cabello has fallen into the hands of the Venezuelan revolutionists, following the capture of Barcelona. It looks very much as though President Castro must escape to Paris very soon or suffer the consequences of delay. Beyond that is the more serious problem of protecting Americans and American property from an incoming political power that is, at present, an irresponsible mob, intoxicated with success at arms.

Secretary Shaw of the treasury department is determined that the affairs of his bureau shall not be unnecessarily fettered by red tape. The decision is a sensible one and would no doubt find profitable application in all the big government buildings at the capital.

The Hon. Joseph Choate seemed quite able to do the honors for America during the coronation exercises without any special excitement in the upholstery department.

From the size of the excursion crowds from Pittsburgh this week it would appear that Atlantic City will get that predicted tidal wave all right, but from the land side.

Notwithstanding the bad luck that has befallen the weather prophets and the coronation prophets this summer the usual crop of political forecasters may be expected to do business this fall.

King Edward in a burst of gratitude might decorate some of those gloomy prophets who tried to queer his coronation.

Prince Chen doubtless understands by this time why Minister Wu has felt so much reluctance in resigning his American job.

It is to be hoped that President Castro of Venezuela has his back-pedaling machinery in good order. The chances are he will need it.

The Democratic press is quite busy giving advice to the Republicans. Its own troubles are allowed to grow more complicated every day.

With a double-decked congressional nomination on his hands Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio will have little time for side amusements this fall.

Henry Watterson might organize a moral and political reform annex to the national Democratic party as a balm for his lacerated feelings.

It is not thought that Messrs. Gaynor and Greene will have to "walk back home."

New Jersey might try her hand on the Paterson "Reds" and give the mosquitoes a rest.

Mr. Addicks of Delaware wishes it distinctly understood that he is still very much in politics.

That predicted "hot wave" from the west will serve to give returning vacationists a warm reception.

Revenue from her increasing number of oil gushers may force Kentucky hip pockets into more useful service.

If she can find him Canada is welcome to Pat Crowe also.

Proved Himself Eligible.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

The young man stood before the grim old captain of industry and looked him full in the face.

"Well, sir," said Horatius J. Hardrox, "you wished to see me, I believe?"

"No, sir. I did not wish to see you. I am here not because I wish to be, but because it is necessary. You have a daughter. I will not ask you to sacrifice any of your valuable time in listening to a catalogue of her charms. You probably have noticed most of them. I will come down to business, sir, at once. She and I desire to merge our interests, and I trust that I have made no bull in hoping you may not take a bearish attitude toward the proposed combination."

"Trust—combination—bull, and bear—merge? All right. Take her, my boy. You seem to be one of us."

DANGERS LURKING IN GOTHAM STREETS

Fall of Derrick Under Which Thousands Pass Daily Is Hardly Noticed.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.

New York may not present more dangers to the life and limb of people in the streets than any other city in proportion to its size, but you could not make the average New Yorker believe it. In Upper Broadway this morning a derrick broke and several men went to the hospital in consequence. They were all workmen. The derrick was over the heads of a large number of people, and the heavy loads that were in course of transit up and down might have dropped upon a score or two of passers-by. It was merely luck that they did not. At the same corner where the derrick fell, or very near to it, a sidewalk platform built over an excavation gave way when Prince Henry was in this city and a large crowd of sightseers had assembled to see him go past. Several persons were hurt on that occasion. Diagonally across from the smashing derrick this morning men were hauling an immense flagpole, which weighed several tons, up the face of a skyscraper. There was a rope stretched across the sidewalk to keep people from under, but if the flagpole had fallen the chances are that it would have reached far over the boundary marked by the rope, with possibly serious results. In Broadway and elsewhere in many places men are working on new buildings, occasionally dropping a hammer, a lump of stone, a brick, or some other unconsidered trifle, upon the walk below, from a distance of 100 feet or so. Such an accident occurred at the "Flatiron" building at Broadway, Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street, a week or two ago. The subway operations are a constant threat against human safety. When it is considered by the foreman of a gang of laborers that conditions are more than usually perilous he sends a man to the edge of the hole with a red flag. So far as can be seen no one takes notice of the red flag, because it is not clear what one is to do to avoid the danger hinted at by the signal. The red flag is imposing, but not instructive. As for falling elevators, they are so common that everyone feels he is taking a chance for his life or death whenever he has occasion to ride in one. It may be that Pittsburgh and other well regulated cities are not safer than New York, but I doubt it.

Santos-Dumont Quits Our Shores.

We have lost our Santos. We shall not see Santos-Dumont sailing around the head of the Statue of Liberty in an airship—at least not just now. The famous young aeronaut sailed for Europe today on the French liner La Touraine, saying that he would not return until 1904, when he intends to take part in the airship contest at St. Louis. The reason for this sudden departure is that the Aero Club of America has not produced the $25,000 which he had always understood the club would offer as a prize to the first man that demonstrated the utility of the flying machine. Santos-Dumont said he had sold his airship at Brighton Beach, but did not give the name of the purchaser.

Sent to Study European Police.

Mayor Low is so determined to reorganize the police force of Greater New York that he and Police Commissioner Partridge have sent Gen. Avery D. Andrews to Europe to study police systems. Gen. Andrews, Partridge and Mr. Philbin, formerly district attorney, are a commission ordered by the mayor to look into the subject. So, while Andrews is delving into police management in London, Paris and Berlin his fellow commissioners will be studying the subject at home. There is every indication that the three platoon system will be revived in New York in due time, the present arrangement of two platoons being very unsatisfactory to the men.

Sailor Seeking Redress.

A somewhat unusual case has come up in the courts here. Charles Farewell, a seafaring man, in 1887 bought two $1 tickets in a lottery conducted by the Sisters of the Ursuline convent in this city for the unimproved real estate in the Bronx. At that time Bronx property was not worth so much as it is now, by a great deal. Farewell won a lot which is now known as 653 Eagle avenue, and it was regularly deeded to him on November 29, 1887. Then he went to sea, leaving the deeds in the custody of a relative. Farewell came back from a long cruise the other day and he went to the Bronx to look at his property. To his surprise he found that John Weizel had built a two-story frame house on the lot and was living in it with his wife. Moreover, Weizel produced a deed signed by Charles Farewell, transferring the property to Weizel, dated February 18, 1897. Farewell says he did not sign the deed, and as the relative disappeared soon after the transfer, the supreme court has been asked to settle the ownership of the lot.

Another Gates Fairy Tale.

John W. Gates gave a Saratoga waiter a tip of $500 today. That is the story which came down to New York, together with the information that the waiter immediately went to the race track and plunged on everything in sight. Mr. Gates only smiled when asked if the yarn was true.

Short Walk Over Death Trap.

There was a short-circuit on the Third avenue "L" this afternoon and some hundreds of passengers had to walk a block or two along the tracks, dodging the "deadly third rail." No one was hurt, but the fear that the current might be suddenly turned on and that someone might put his foot on the charged rail lent the charm of excitement to the walk.

Morgan Will Settle Everything.

J. P. Morgan is on the Oceanic, bound for New York, and may be here by the end of this week. When he reaches his office in Wall street he will be besieged by an army of financiers, business men and lawyers who look to him to straighten out all kinds of difficulties. Mr. Morgan has a short way of dealing with matters of importance, and it is the feeling in the street that there will be a more comfortable condition of things there a fortnight after Mr. Morgan gets back and buckles down to work than there has been since he sailed away several months ago.

Protect Public Against Their Kind.

Special policemen formed an association today, with a membership of one-fourth of "be total number employed in Greater New York. After organizing at a hall in East Fourth street, they paraded around the block. Just to ratify their proceedings, and give the public an opportunity of looking at a fine body of men. The object of the association, besides establishing a mutual benefit and death assurance society, is to "protect the public from fake special policemen, who are living by blackmail." This naive admission that there are bogus policemen, carrying on the "graft" game which has always been denied under Tammany rule, is interesting to say the least.

Deadly Insult to Charles Ross.

Rialto gossips, talking about the tragic death of Charles L. Fair by an automobile accident in France, recall the fight he had with Charles Ross and other actors in the Hoffman house about four years ago. It was one of those early morning "scraps" which are not uncommon in the Tenderloin, and which may occur anywhere between Central park and Union square along Broadway. The beginning of the row, as it is detailed up town tonight, was a discussion about theatrical matters in which Fair, Ross, Peter Dailey, the comedian, and several other men-about-town, took part. As the conversation grew warm, Fair said to Ross: "Well, you're no Booth." This nettled Ross, who, possibly, considered that he was a Booth. Anyhow, he "handed one" to Fair, and Fair came back at him with a left swing to the jaw. Immediately the fight became general, with Dailey and all the rest of the party in it. No particular damage was done, but it has always since been one of the historical brawls of the gay district of Gotham.

Strike Hardly Makes Ripple.

It is the opinion in this city that the strike of gold beaters in various cities of this country will come to an end of inanition. Manufacturers say that if the men do not come to terms, gold-leaf will be imported from Germany. This will end the gold-beating industry in this country because the rates asked by the strikers exceed the price of imported gold leaf, and if importation once begins it will be permanent. The reason given by strikers for holding out is that women are employed in a part of the process of gold-beating. The employers declare that the women are doing a class of work which does not in any way interfere with the employment of the men and is a delicate class of labor especially fitted for women. They also say that some of the women have been employed for 20 years and they see no good reason for shutting them out of the trade.

Jolt That Escapes Police.

Harlem boys have a trick for disconcerting drivers of light wagons which well illustrates the fiendish ingenuity in mischief of the average urchin. Playing baseball in the streets is an amusement that is winked at by the police, although it is not in accordance with city ordinances. When a wagon passes a crowd of boys playing the national game, the youth with the bat thrusts that implement in front of one of the hind wheels, and with the leverage he obtains by pressing the end of the bat on the cobblestones, lifts the wheel several inches above the roadway, and lets it down with a bump that shakes the driver from the top of his spine to his heels. The police do not seem to have "caught on" to this trick yet. When they do, there may be a jolt for some of the boys.

Drop Into New York to Shop.

Broadway and the shopping thoroughfares begin to show undoubted indications that many of the summer vacationists have returned. There are more people in the streets now than there were a few weeks ago, and the crowds grow larger each day. It is not only the returning New Yorkers that make the showing. Holiday-makers from other cities who have been across the ocean or to any of the resorts in this county, anywhere within 200 miles of New York, like to tarry here for a few days before getting back to their own homes to settle down to the humdrum business of life. So the big stores are full of shoppers from other places, and the theaters and leading avenues are thronged every bright afternoon. Every indication is that there is a busy fall ahead, in which trade will be boomed as it has not been for a year, at least.

Devery Will Again Do Pig Act.

"Big Bill" Devery intends to have another try at catching a greased pig. He took part in a contest of that kind a week or so ago, but was beaten on the home stretch, much to his disgust. The pig he will try to overhaul on Saturday at Rockaway weighs 250 pounds, and the man that catches him will win $25. The spectacle of the famous "Big Chief" scrambling after a greasy pig is said to be most edifying, and the announcement that he will repeat the feat is sure to attract a large crowd of spectators to Rockaway.

Morgan Objects to Art Tariff.

Gen. Di Cesnola, managing director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, today denied the report that J. Pierpont Morgan is bringing to America the famous panels painted by Fragonard for the Comtesse Du Barry's Belvidere at Loubenciennes. The general is quoted as saying: "Mr. Morgan and I had a long talk before he sailed, in which he said that as long as there was a tariff to pay on works of art brought to this country he would bring none here. All of his purchases should remain on the other side as a perpetual protest and lesson to the government on the folly of taxing works of art."

Ping-Pong on Bargain Counter.

What has become of the game of ping-pong? It has almost completely died out in New York, and today one of the big department stores advertised $1 50 ping-pong sets at the cut rate of 89 cents, with few takers. For a few weeks table tennis, or ping-pong, had this community by the throat, and after dinner in the evening thousands of ordinarily circumspect men and women were diving under tables and knocking their heads against piano legs hunting for the pesky little ball, as if their present prosperity and future happiness depended upon it. But the epidemic was too severe to last, and few people bother with it now. In the Waldorf-Astoria a lonesome game takes place now and then, but most of the ping-pongers are two months ago have gone back to billiards in the evening, after playing the real tennis or golf in the daytime. Ping-pong is dead in Gotham.

Too Cold for Dips In Water.

The cool summer has had a depressing effect on the bath house keepers at Rockaway, Bath Beach and other seashore resorts in Greater New York. It is declared by this always truthful class that there has been less sea bathing than for 10 years. GEORGE C. JENKS.

Hard on the Grafters.

From the Philadelphia Press.

Controller Larkin of Pittsburgh declares that some one is making about $180,000 a year out of that city's bank balances, which amount he thinks should go to the city. If there are to be such officials as Controller Larkin there will soon be no profit for anybody in boasing municipal government.

In a Class by Themselves.

From the Cleveland Leader.

Two Chicago reporters found the body of a woman murdered in that city after the police has abandoned the search. This is only fresh proof of the fact that the average newspaper reporter is a better detective than the men who are paid to track and arrest criminals.

WHITE LIES.

It's a lie to give praise to the boy whose best
Is little, who lingers behind the rest—
But the Lord will forgive you for it;
It's a lie to tell him who can never
Succeed that the things he does are clever,
So giving him heart for new endeavor—
But the Lord will forgive you for it.

It's a lie to say to the woman who's plain
That men abhor the pretty and vain—
But the Lord will forgive you for it;
It's a lie to smile when the fates keep making
Away with prizes you've dreamed of taking;
It's a lie to smile when your heart is breaking—
But the Lord will forgive you for it.

MONARCHS GROW WEARY OF STRIFE

Many of Them Would Abdicate Were It Not for the Consequences.

By the MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

After a monarch has been for a few years on the throne he is credited with the desire to abdicate. The reason for this is the emperors, kings, reigning princes and even chief magistrates of republics are overtaken, after a spell of nominally supreme power, by a feeling of profound discouragement on discovery that their prerogatives are limited even to a greater extent than prescribed by the law of the land, and that they are obstructed in the execution of their best intentions by the prejudice, the ill-will and the disloyalty of those by whom they are surrounded.

King George of Greece, King Leopold of Belgium, the kings of Denmark, of Portugal, of Sweden and of Roumania have all been credited with a determination to abdicate on account of their inability to carry through measures which they were convinced were of a nature to benefit alike their country and their people.

The Austrian emperor has also been mentioned as eager to divest himself of the sovereignty of the dual empire, and the report that now comes from Germany to the effect that the czar is anxious to abdicate in favor of his younger brother, Michael, need therefore create no astonishment. It should, however, be accepted with a good deal of reserve. For Nicholas is firmly imbued with the belief that he has a mission to fulfill in connection with Russia which he would have to abandon in the event of his stepping down from the throne, while his wife is likewise a woman possessed of a very lofty sense of duty and of great resolution.

Nicholas Profoundly Discouraged.

On the other hand it is notorious that the emperor is profoundly discouraged. He has no other means of exercising his sovereign power excepting through the bureaucrats, or government officials, who in Russia constitute, more than anywhere else in Europe, a caste apart. Now this officialdom views with displeasure all the czar's projects of reform and liberal intentions, realizing that they will involve a curtailment of their own powers and privileges. Moreover, they know that if Nicholas were to die without leaving a son his younger brother, Michael, would succeed to the throne, and being completely under the influence of his mother, who is strongly opposed to the course of the present emperor, would speedily undo everything that has been accomplished, besides sending his displeasure upon those who have been the instruments of Nicholas II.'s policy.

Of course, the situation will become more encouraging for the emperor, if his wife gives birth to a boy a few weeks hence. But should she present the nation with another girl, the situation will become even still more difficult for the czar than it is at present. People abroad have no idea of the extent to which the antagonism between the widowed empress and the reigning czaritza prevails. To such an extent is it carried that the two imperial ladies avoid meeting one another wherever practicable.

A Royal Feud.

The ill-will between the two great ladies dates back from the time when Princess Alexis first came to Russia as a bride. The elder czaritza was strongly opposed to the match and did not hesitate to say so. She did not wish the Hessian princess to become her daughter-in-law, and told her so. Indeed, it is related on excellent authority that she actually went to the length of appealing first with entreaty and then in anger, to the young princess to herself break off the match and refrain from entering a family in which she was not welcome. The princess, who is possessed of a good deal of strength of mind and obstinacy, declined to yield, and has in consequence thereof been treated ever since her marriage by all her husband's family (except the Grand Duke Sergius, who is married to her older sister) as an intruder. There have been some bitter quarrels between the two empresses, of which court officials in St. Petersburg still speak with bated breath. Indeed, the situation is a thoroughly disheartening one for both the young empress and her well-meaning husband. But things will doubtless change for the better as soon as a son is born to them, and in this case neither he nor she are people of the kind to throw up the sponge and give over their country to the reaction which they are aware would be inaugurated by the widowed empress through her younger son in the event of the latter taking his brother's place on the throne.

Let me add right here that there can be no question of any marriage between the grand duke, Michael—that is to say, the czar's younger brother—and Princess Beatrice of Coburg and Great Britain, whose name is being frequently mentioned of late in the European and American papers as destined to become his bride. The princess and the grand duke are first cousins, the mother of the princess having been the only sister of the grand duke's father, the late czar, and marriages between first cousins are strictly forbidden by the Orthodox church in Russia.

Old Fiction Finally Refuted.

A legend which has been current and generally believed for more than 60 years concerning the wife of the late Lord Beaconsfield has been at length set at rest by a Mr. James Sykes, who has taken the trouble to investigate her origin and ascertain that the popular story that she was at one time a barefooted factory girl is entirely untrue. She spent muhc of her youth in Gloucester, living with her uncle, Sir James, and while there acted as teacher in the Sunday school attended by girls from the pin factories nearby, which probably gave rise to the legend that she herself had been a factory girl.

It was at a ball given at Clifton by a county family of the name of Vernon Graham that Mr. Wyndham Lewis met her and developed that affection which resulted in marriage. He was a very rich man, with a beautiful country seat and a town house, where Lord Beaconsfield, then Benjamin Disraeli, became a frequent guest. Mr. Lewis died in 1888 and 16 months later his widow married Disraeli, who was just eight years her junior, and aged 34 at the time.

Besides the profound affection which Disraeli entertained for his wife he was filled with gratitude to her for having furnished him with the means of satisfying his political ambitions and one of the first things which he did when he became premier was to ask Queen Victoria to confer upon her in her own right a peerage, under the title of Viscountess Beaconsfield, he remaining Mr. Disraeli.

Not long after this she discovered that she was suffering from an internal cancer. It is characteristic of both that while she supposed she was concealing from her husband the existence of the fatal disorder he, though well aware of it, allowed her to retain the pleasing illusion that he was ignorant of her impending fate. It is said he wrote "Lothair" during her last illness to please her, and evening after evening he would read to her the manuscript he had written during the day. She died on Christmas eve in 1872. While Beaconsfield has often been held up as the most selfish statesman of the Victorian era, it is no secret that the late queen's profound regard for him arose largely from her admiration for his romantic devotion and gratitude to his elderly wife. A selfish man is rarely grateful, and Beaconsfield displayed in a striking manner his gratitude to his helpmate, and later on to his faithful private secretary, Monty Corry, for whom he secured from the queen a seat in the house of lords under the name and title of Lord Rowton.

PERSONALS.

United States Senator Francis M. Cockrell of Missouri was at the Union station for an hour last night en route from Washington, where he has spent the summer, to Detroit, where he will attend the funeral of United States Senator McMillan this afternoon. Senator Cockrell has been kept busy in the capital city during the past few months with the work on several committees of which he is a member, and after the McMillan funeral this afternoon he will go to his home in Warrenburg, Mo., to spend a month with his family before returning to Washington. When asked concerning the rumored intention of President Roosevelt to call an extra session of the senate to act on the Cuban reciprocity measure, Senator Cockrell said: "The report is entirely new to me. I have not had much time to read the newspapers thoroughly of late and consequently am somewhat unfamiliar with the proposed call. I do not, however, believe it is necessary to call an extra session of the senate to pass on the measure and cannot allow myself to think President Roosevelt will issue the call."

"The presidential boom of Senator Hanna will be launched in real earnest in a few months," said William S. Martin, a business man of Cleveland, who was at the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie station last evening returning to his home from a business trip in the east. "You will find that when the famous anthracite coal strike in Pennsylvania is settled the credit will be due Senator Hanna. He has an ambition to bring capital and labor closer together, and in the next year I will predict that his accomplishments in this direction will be much greater than now expected. The Ohio statesman has finally succeeded in interesting Senator Quay in the Pennsylvania strike, with the result that the troops may be withdrawn and the miners may return to work in a very few weeks. Senator Hanna will now turn his attention to the labor troubles in Illinois, especially in Chicago, and it will likely be but a short time until the strikes there will be at an end."

Alexander Dempster left Pittsburgh last night over the Pennsylvania railroad for Chautauqua, where his family is spending the summer months. "The popularity of the New York summering place seems to be greatly on the wane this year," he said. "Last season it was quite popular and the largest crowds ever known were there, but this year the vast throngs of watering place visitors are going to the seashore, and Atlantic City appears to be the Mecca of the vacationists."

J. M. Thomas of Thomas, Pa., and a party of 10 persons went to Atlantic City last night on the excursion over the Baltimore & Ohio.

William F. Stewart, a well-known member of the Jefferson county bar, was in Pittsburgh yesterday on legal business.

Worse Than Kissing Bugs.

From the Oil City Derrick.

A new bug that is causing almost as much excitement and inconvenience as the infamous "kissing bug" has invaded Oil City. So far no specimen of the insect has been secured, but there are more than 50 persons here who bear specimens of the effects of the sting of the insect. The bug alights on his victim, perforates his cuticle in one or more places and gets away. In an incredibly short time a large white blister arises and unless prompt measures are taken to counteract the effects of the poison, the flesh begins to swell and become painful. Cases have occurred where a bite on the finger has caused the arm of the victim to swell to almost twice the natural size from the bite to the shoulder. Several cases have been severe enough to require the services of a physician.

And the Snake Laughed.

From the Baltimore American.

Two boys who are visitors at the Rockbridge baths, near Lexington, Va., had quite an experience exploring a cave near Wilsons Springs. On entering they came across a large venomous snake, which showed fight. One of the lads fired a pistol at the reptile. The ball struck the rocky side of the cave, and, rebounding, struck

CAMPAIGN BOOK FULLY INDORSED BY PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Thoroughly Satisfied With Chapters on Reciprocity and Trusts.

NOW GOING TO COUNTRY

Publisher Not Delivering Them Fast Enough to Meet Official Demand. Will Soon Be on Sale—Overstreet Denies Democratic Tale.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU
906 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug 14.

Another roorback of the Democratic press got its quietus today, when Secretary Overstreet of the Republican congressional committee denied emphatically the story that President Roosevelt was dissatisfied with the Republican text-book because it was not strong enough on reciprocity and trusts. The book will not be revised in any way.

A visible proof for this statement could be had today by a visitor to the Union building on G street, where the congressional committee has its headquarters for the distribution of campaign literature. There the employes of the committee were busily engaged in packing the text-books for distribution and those that were ready to send away, together with those that have already been shipped from this city, will aggregate 25,000 volumes. Every chairman of a Republican state committee receives 500 books, every Republican representative 1000, and additional distributions are made in response to special needs. If there was any desire to recall the book it is too late; but it is declared that there has never been any intention of suppressing the volume and issuing in its place a revised text-book.

Specially bound volumes were being wrapped today to send to the president, members of his cabinet and a few prominent men in the party. It is believed here that the president fully indorsed the text-book before it was given publicity, and no explanation of how the story of its suppression was started can be ascertained by those who deny the report.

They say the only reason the text-books have not been placed on public sale is that it has been necessary first to supply state committees and representatives with the number allowed them. The publisher of the books has not delivered them as rapidly as was expected, so that this demand to be first filled has not yet been fully met. As soon as enough books have come from the publisher to meet the urgent demand news stands will be able to obtain them, so that they can be purchased by anyone.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY IN DIET

At the Battle Creek Sanitarium Food Laboratory researches in dietetics have been conducted for over a quarter of a century by skilled physicians and chemists, including very extensive experiments made on animals and human beings. One of the most interesting discoveries is the importance of dextrinizing the starch of foods as a means of preventing and curing indigestion, especially acidity, gastric catarrh, constipation, brain fag, rickets in children, weak muscles in adults. As a result of thousands of experiments a new choice food has been produced called Toasted Wheat Flakes, sweetened with Malt Honey, which is thoroughly dextrinized and actually prevents and cures these maladies. This sweet toothsome food may be eaten moist or dry. Know the genuine by a picture of the Battle Creek Sanitarium on the package.

Society

THE board of managers of the United Presbyterian Home for the Aged, Penn avenue and Trenton street, Wilkinsburg, expects to begin work almost immediately upon a large new wing to the present building. The plans are being drawn by Architect John L. Beatty. By means of this new wing, which will be erected at a probable cost of from $17,000 to $20,000, the present capacity of the home will be much enlarged, an infirmary will be added, also a large and general sitting room for the old people, and such other features as have been needed, but could not be had heretofore because of lack of space.

The infirmary will not be general, but will be for the use of the inmates of the home in times of sickness and will be thoroughly equipped with everything needful to reduce to a minimum pain and suffering. The sitting room will be large, bright and sunny. There will be additional bed rooms in the new wing and other apartments for the use of those in the home. The wing on the west side was completed about five years ago at a cost of $17,000.

Within a few days an innovation has taken place at the home. It is the admission of men. Heretofore only women were admitted, but so many applications were received from aged men that the board of managers decided to build an annex at the rear of the building. This annex was completed yesterday. It consists of two stories. On the first floor are kitchens and pantries and a dining room, which will accommodate 100 people. The second floor is divided into 10 bed rooms. Six old men have been admitted to the institution. Three of them have already established themselves there; one is with his wife; the other two are single.

The annex was formally opened in the early summer when the annual lawn fete was held at the home, though the building was not then completed. There are 60 inmates in the home at present, and with the proposed new wing and the annex just completed, at least 100 can be admitted. The annex was erected at a cost of $12,000. The dining room was furnished throughout by Mrs. George B. Hill, as a memorial to her mother, Mrs. Nicholson. The old dining room in the main building will be given up when the new one is ready for use.

The home is directed by a board of managers, consisting of 25 women, elected by the United Presbyterian Women's Association. Mrs. S. B. Donaldson of Wilkinsburg is president of the board.

The following members of the club composed the party: Henry Fitzpatrick, president; Frank McBride, vice president; E. J. White, secretary; C. H. Hopper, treasurer; M. Purtill, P. Powell, Frank E. Ford, Maurice Martin, J. McClafferty and the Misses Fitzpatrick, Alice and Kate Keefe, Nellie and Mollie Ryan, Margaret McMahon and May Fitzgerald.

The entire party will be quartered at the Rio Grande hotel, New York avenue and boardwalk, for two weeks, and on the return trip will take in New York, Washington and Baltimore, arriving home early in September.

The Usher club is a comparatively new organization, having been in existence about two years. This is the first trip of the club, but is to be an annual event. The arrangements for the trip were in the hands of Mr. Purtill, assisted by Thomas F. Walsh, John F. Lang, P. E. Kane and Dr. C. L. McGovern.

Pittsburgh Girls in Europe.

Pittsburgh sent two delegates to the international convention of Young Women's Christian associations, to be held in Geneva, Switzerland. They are Miss McIlvaine and Miss Lydia Murdock. After the close of the convention in July, Miss McIlvaine and Miss Murdock returned to Paris and will soon leave for England. They have arranged to sail from Glasgow for New York September 6, and are expected home September 14.

Miss Murdock writes very interesting letters telling of experiences while touring Europe. She has given only brief accounts of the convention in Geneva, but in her letters has spoken of the enthusiasm which animated the great gathering of women from all over the world and the interest which is taken in the work of the Young Women's Christian association in all lands. The reports of all the delegates, save those from England and America, were given in French, and were translated for the benefit of the English-speaking portion of the great audience, while the reports from these two countries were translated into French for the delegates from the other foreign countries. These reports told of the different conditions characterizing the work of the association in foreign countries, and though the purpose is everywhere the same, the character and environment are different in each land.

Miss Murdock and Miss McIlvaine went abroad in June, accompanied by Mme. de Valley, the French instructor at the Pennsylvania College for Women, and her daughter, Mlle. de Valley. Two other young women from eastern cities completed the party. They went direct to Italy and spent several weeks in visiting Rome, Florence and Venice and other important places. Going north they reached Germany, crossed to Switzerland and finally reached Paris. They were three weeks in Paris and from there went to Geneva for the international convention.

THIS SEASON'S RECORDS WERE GIVEN A JOLT

Prince Alert and Dan Patch Showed Very Fast Work at Brighton.

WAS A HEAVY WIND

Had It Not Been for That, World's Record Might Have Been Broken. Novelty Races Bring Out Some Very Fast Stepping.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 14.—Seven thousand spectators today saw a splendid series of contests in which the best trotting and pacing records for the season in races were made. In the first race of the day, the 2:10 novelty trot, Susie J. won the second heat in 2:06½, and in the special race between Prince Alert and Anaconda the former paced in 2:03¼. The best previous records of the season in races were The Monk, trotting 2:07, and Dan Patch, pacing 2:03¾. The fastest time of the season, made against the watch by Dan Patch, 2:00¾, was duplicated.

It was the gala day of the Grand circuit meeting at Brighton Beach, and but for a rather stiff breeze the pacing record might have gone.

This Race Was Close.

The 2:10 trot was the opener, and before the first heat Ferono sold at 50 to 30 for the field. Aggie Medium had the pole. Louise Mack took the lead with Ferono at her wheel and York Boy within striking distance. The race was close, but Louise Mack was never headed and won by two lengths. In this heat Susie J. finished seventh, yet she was an even money choice for the second heat, and, with the word, she shot off to the quarter in :31 seconds and to the half in 1:01½, with York Boy and Ferono fighting it out for second place. The favorite came home six lengths ahead, showing up in 2:06½. York Boy was a 6 to 5 choice for the third heat, and after All Right had led to the half he went to the front and the race was over, though for second place Col. Cochron, Ferena and All Right finished heads apart.

The Brighton $5,000 purse for the 2:10 pacers had a big field, yet Twinkle sold for $100 for $120 for the field. Don Derby started out in the most sensational style and led the field to the half in 1:01¾ and came home in 2:06, with Terrace Queen three lengths back. He was now the choice at 2 to 1 and again led to the half in 1:01½, with Joe Pointer and Twinkle lapped. The trio had the race between them, but at the distance Twinkle shot to the front and won by an open length.

It was now 100 to 60 on Twinkle, yet it was a close call, as she only won the next heat by a neck from You Bet, with Joe Pointer close up. In the deciding heat Twinkle had it all her own way.

The talent laid 100 to 25 on Prince Alert against Anaconda, and though as a spectacle it was pretty the race hardly ever was in doubt, as the favorite led all the way in each heat.

Dan Patch's Great Going.

For the special it was announced that Dan Patch would go against his own record of 2:00¾ and Star Pointer's record of 1:59½. He was accompanied by two runners and paced a splendidly rated mile. He went to the quarter in 30¼ and to the half in 1:00¼. The three quarters was passed in 1:31, and he came home without pressure in 2:00¾, equaling his record.

For the 2:24 pace novelty the roan gelding Albert was the choice at even money for the first heat, and he had an easy time beating a poor field in 2:11½. For the second heat Orrin B. was an even money favorite, but Free Advice made a runaway of it, winning by six lengths. Dick Wilson was a 3 to 5 favorite for the third heat, but it was a wonderful Orrin B. in the slow time of 2:18¾. Summaries:

2:10 class, trotting, novelty race, purse $1,500. Horse winning fastest heat wins first money.

Punxsy Had No Trouble Beating Tidioute.

THE GREEN B. MORRIS COLT HAD AN EASY THING.

Gold Cure Was the Favorite, but Was Never the Least Bit Dangerous. Jockey Erbsmehl Was Badly Injured in a Race.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Green B. Morris' colt, Cunard, won the classic Keener stakes at one mile and a quarter this afternoon from a fair field of 3-year-olds. Cunard won easily by a length and a half from the 6-to-5 favorite, Gold Cure, in 2:05 3-5, record time from the track.

Navigation on the Three Rivers Is Being Improved.

Flash boards are being placed on dam No. 4 on the Monongahela river by the government officials, much to the delight of the rivermen, and it will only be a few days until these older dams between Pittsburgh and No. 4 lock are so equipped. This will give the river interests 18 inches additional water in the pools, which will be of material benefit. The high stages of water in the Monongahela river last month carried the boards away.

The Ohio river continues to recede slowly and what boats are running are having some difficulty on account of fog. The misty weather has forced many steamers to the bank during the past few days and has caused some of the boats to fall behind in their schedule time. Low water also compels some of them to make short trips, but the rivermen are hoping for a rise in the rivers soon. The weather was considerably warmer yesterday and some of the boatmen are of the opinion that this is the forerunner of more rain.

News of the Rivers.

Capt. Robert Boles, a New Orleans pilot, returned to Pittsburgh by rail.

The preliminary work on the new locks and dams for the Big Sandy river has been started.

The Dewey, a packet recently brought to St. Louis by Capt. Sims, has been painted and refitted.

Capt. I. W. Lucas, who has charge of locks Nos. 2, 3 and 9 on the Monongahela river, was in Pittsburgh yesterday.

The towboat Fred Wilson, which is in port, is having some repairs made which will be completed in a few days.

The new packet Columbia is scheduled to come into port coming on tomorrow. The boat was built at Brownsville.

The steamer Ben Hur, from Parkersburg, was late in arriving last night, having been detained on account of shallow water.

The Bessie Smith and Ben Hur will not exchange trades until next week, and not then if the rise has not declined considerably.

The weather bulletin yesterday reported a rise of two feet of water at Johnstown, Pa., but it was an error, the river only rose two-tenths of a foot in that city.

Col. Theodore Poe, the weather prophet of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati Packet line, has an 8 or 9-foot stage of water scheduled to appear in the Ohio river August 26.

The steamer Greenwood was on good time yesterday and will be found in port this morning. The Lorena also should be found this morning at the Monongahela wharf.

The West Virginia shore span of the new bridge at Williamstown, this river, is reported to be completed by rivermen, and structural iron is arriving rapidly for the main span.

The Virginia is expected to arrive tonight from Cincinnati and will leave tomorrow for that place. A large list of passengers has been booked for the outgoing trip. The boat was on fair time yesterday at Parkersburg.

The towboat Tornado arrived in port with her tow of empties from Cincinnati last night except the W. H. Flint will be able to come into port with empties until there is a rise in the Ohio river. The Flint is expected to arrive today with a tow of coal.

Rivermen continue to complain that it is very difficult to raise the Davis Island dam by telephone at certain hours during the day and night. It is often important to get in touch with the officials in charge of the state of water and the movements of passing boats.

Complaint is being made of the number of snags that impede navigation on the river between Cairo and St. Louis. Pilots of the towboats Dispatch and Dolphin report that unless great care is taken the chances of running into the obstructions can hardly be avoided.

The local steamboat inspectors yesterday took further testimony bearing on the collision between the steamer Elizabeth and the Elsbeth, which took place in pool No. 9 on the Monongahela river August 7 last. It will be several days before the inspectors are ready to announce a decision.

Congressman T. E. Burton, chairman of the river and harbor committee of congress, has not yet announced to Capt. John F. Dravo and other members of the Pittsburgh committee which will entertain Mr. Burton and members of his committee, the exact date of their coming. However, it will not be until the latter part of this month.

COKE PRODUCTION SHOWS AN INCREASE

Shipments Have Also Improved by Better Car Supply in Connellsville Region.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Aug. 14.—The Courier will say tomorrow:

Coke Production in the Connellsville region last week was nearly 1,000 tons more than it was the week previous. Shipments were also better, and coke is being shipped out of the region just as fast as cars can be placed and men secured to load it. Some trouble has been experienced in getting labor.

The detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending Saturday, August 9, shows a total of 415 ovens, of which 20,661 were active and 834 were idle. No changes are reported in the active and idle list of ovens. The estimated tonnage was 251,246 tons, compared with 250,248 tons the previous week.

The shipments from the Connellsville region last week aggregated 11,909 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river tipples, 8,507 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 5,709 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 2,253 cars. Compared with the shipments of the previous week this was an increase of 326 cars.

In the Lower Connellsville region there are 3,566 coke ovens, an increase of 140 over the total of the week of August 2.

The Rivervlew Coal & Coke Company is now operating a plant of 140 ovens near Masontown, on the Monongahela river. Besides making coke, they are shipping coal, having facilities both by rail and river. The ovens will likely be increased to 200. The ovens in operation in the Lower Connellsville district last week were 3,358, while 148 were idle. The estimated tonnage was 44,015 tons, compared with 42,214 tons the previous week. Shipments were 548 cars, compared with 541 cars the week before.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 14.—Pittsburgh won the fourth and decisive game of the final series between the champions and the Bostons without any difficulty this afternoon. Outbatted, outfielded and outplayed in every department of the game, the local exponents of baseball were glad that only a scant handful of 400 faithful fans were present to witness their downfall.

To Jesse Tannehill belongs in large measure the credit of the victory. Capt. Long and his team of heavyweights found the crack Pittsburgh twirler for just five lonesome singles until the ninth. Then, with the game well in hand, Tannehill let up a bit in order to save his arm for the stiff series of games which is to come on the home grounds.

Tommy Leach and His Little Bat.

On the other hand Eason, who occupied the slab for the Bostons, was easy. Little Tommy Leach in particular found his curves just to his liking and batted terrifically. In the first inning he put the ball over the fence and repeated the feat in the eighth. A two-bagger and a single were also features of his great stick work. In passing it may be mentioned, however, that Eason struck Leach out once when a hit would mean two runs. The Pirates' third baseman got even and more later in the game. Neither team played with any particular brilliancy in the field. On both sides there were several poor throws in evidence. Demont and Long put up a good article of ball, the former player especially distinguishing himself.

Kittredge caught fouls in rare form. A feature of the game was Conroy's circus catch of Long's hot liner in the second inning on which he doubled up Demont, unassisted. The bleachers applauded him heartily.

Wagner, he of the Herculean shoulders, was very much in the game, backing up and filling bases to the extent not shown in the score. Pittsburgh scored with beautiful regularity. In the first inning came Leach with a sky-scraping homer. In the third the same player led off with a corking single over the middle bag. Eason tried several times to catch the runner napping off first base. Leach finally made a break for second, Tenney threw sharply toward the bag and Long, standing in a trance at the short stop's position, saw the ball roll away to the left garden, whereupon Leach got away promptly to third and scored on Wagner's long fly to Cooley.

Boston Saved a Shutout.

In Boston's half of the fifth, with one hand out, Lush cracked a single to right field. Wagner made a great try for the impossible ball and nearly got it. Kittredge put a liner to left, then Conroy let Eason's bounder get away from him. Consequently Lush scored and Boston was saved a shut-out. Dexter drew a pass and the bases were filled. Tenney endeavored to bother Tannehill for a force, but finally, with three balls and two strikes on him, knocked a long fly to Beaumont and Boston's chances faded away like a West Indian sunset. The locals never had another such opportunity—all on account of Tannehill.

In its half Pittsburgh garnered another. Wagner getting around on his base hit, Ritchey's sacrifice and a battery error. Conroy made a hit but was nailed in trying to steal third.

In the sixth came yet another. With Smith out Tannehill put in a base hit. Beaumont was out at first, but Leach's timely two-bagger sent Jesse home. Two runs came in in the eighth. With two out Leach made his second homer. Wagner hit safely and by great base running scored on Ritchey's single to deep left field.

The Pittsburgh team left for Atlantic City today, where they play tomorrow. The score:

VICTORY FOR CHICAGO.

Taylor's Curves Too Much for Hanlon's Men.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 14.—Chicago took the last game of the series from Brooklyn today by a score of 6 to 2. The fielding of the home team was disjointed and lacked the snap displayed during the previous games. Taylor was hit harder than usual, but half of the 10 hits made off him came when there was no one on bases. Score:

PIRATES BADLY CRIPPLED.

Manager Clarke in Bad Shape. Bransfield Will Be Out a Week. Double-Header Tomorrow.

Secretary Pulliam of the Pirates returned to the city yesterday, after a two weeks' sojourn at his home in Kentucky. The secretary last night received a telegram from President Dreyfuss, who is with the team, stating that Pitcher Chesbro and Manager Clarke had started for home and would arrive here today.

Mr. Dreyfuss, in the telegram, stated that Manager Clarke is in very bad shape, but does not give any particulars. He also states that the injury sustained by First Baseman Bransfield in Wednesday's game will keep him out of the game for a week. This leaves the champions in pretty bad shape.

Mr. Dreyfuss also sends word that the opening attraction here on Saturday afternoon will be a double-header with the Philadelphia team, the first game starting at 2:30 o'clock. The champions play an exhibition game at Atlantic City today.

ENGLISH EXPERTS WITHDREW.

W. A. Larned Had It Easy in the Tennis Finals.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I., Aug. 14.—Because of the withdrawal of the Doherty brothers today from the championship singles of the Long Island lawn tennis tournament the final match was put on the courts of the Meadow club and resulted in a victory for William A. Larned in three straight sets over Dr. Joshua Pim of the English team. The final score was 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Larned captured the title and trophy here last year, and under the ruling conditions was only called upon to play the final match in defense of his prize, but the presence of the English trio made it advisable for the American champion to go through the opening round, especially as he is in need of hard tournament play to get him in form for Newport. Had Larned been opposed by either of the Dohertys in the final match here the general opinion is that he would have been defeated. The complete summary of the day's play follows:

Championship singles, semi-final round—William A. Larned defeated R. F. Doherty by default; Dr. Joshua Pim defeated H. L. Doherty by default.

Final round and championship match—William A. Larned defeated Dr. Joshua Pim, 6—2, 6—4, 6—3.

Championship doubles, semi-final round—Malcolm D. Whitman and William A. Larned defeated Dr. Joshua Pim and Oliver S. Campbell, 2—6, 8—6, 7—5.

Final round and championship match—R. F. Doherty and H. L. Doherty defeated Malcolm D. Whitman and William A. Larned, 6—4, 6—4, 6—3.

Mixed doubles, first round—Miss Holins and R. F. Doherty defeated Miss B. Sands and Fred Huntington, 6—2, 6—3. Mrs. Livingston and Lyle E. Mahan defeated Miss Russell and Robert P. Huntington, 4—6, 6—4, 6—3.

TO TRANSFER THE FIGHT.

Manager of Louisville Club Starts for New York.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Aug. 14.—Robert Gray, manager of the Southern Athletic club, has gone to New York in response to a request by Sam Harris, acting, it is said, for both McGovern and Young Corbett. It is understood here that the purpose of the conference in New York is to arrange the fight between McGovern and Corbett to Louisville, the attitude of the Connecticut authorities being antagonistic to the proposed meeting.

Robert C. Gray, manager of the Louisville Athletic club, last night telegraphed the sporting editor of The Gazette that the Corbett-McGovern fight, which the Hartford, Conn., authorities interfered with, has been transferred to Louisville. The date for the fight has not been set.

PREPARING FOR THE FRAY

American League Held Secret Meeting—Ban Johnson Is Full of Fight.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 14.—An important meeting of the board of directors of the American league was held at the Hollenden today, the session lasting nearly five hours. The meeting was called by President Ban Johnson for the purpose of discussing the future plans of the league, and to make a report on the season so far as it has gone. The meeting was purely an executive one, and no one was able to enter the room. Every member of the board was present.

That the meeting must have been of more importance than the members of the board intimated was proven by the length of the proceedings. But, when asked if anything had been done, President Johnson said that a lot of unfinished business had been cleaned up, and only the business of the league fixed up. "We only discussed the questions of the hour, and cleaned everything up, and find today that the American league is stronger than ever. In looking over my books the other day, I found out that the American league had drawn over 189,000 people more up to August 1 than at the same time last year. This alone speaks for itself where we stand with the people."

Discussing the amalgamation story sent out from Chicago, Mr. Johnson said: "There is absolutely no chance for an amalgamation between the American baseball league and the National league. Business during the past two years has prospered as it never prospered before, and the American league has reaped the benefit of that prosperity. In fact, no organization has done so well as the American.

"Last winter the National league gave us the opportunity to amalgamate and absorb that organization, but we refused to do so, believing that the best interests of baseball could be served by the operation of two major leagues."

Just before leaving the hotel Mr. Johnson stated that the National league will find out that his league has not been asleep. "We have been very busy the last five weeks, but have nothing to say at present, leaving this part of the news for the Chicago meeting, in October."

Mr. Kilfoyle of the Cleveland club said: "Sentiment in Cleveland is in favor of working in harmony together and we are, after our experience, more strongly of that opinion than before. It would be decidedly to the interest of baseball to oppose any idea of amalgamation."

FREEMAN RIDING FAST.

Portland Rider Thinks He Will Create a New Record.

The 20-mile motor-paced race with Joe Nelson on Saturday night at the Colosseum track in Allegheny will be the 26th contest in which Howard Freeman of Portland, Ore., has taken part this season. Of this number Freeman's record shows that in 17 he has been a winner. Of the eight races in which he was entered and failed to take a first, nearly all were three or four-cornered races and in three of these, in which four men were entered, he came in second.

During the year Freeman has met all the fastest of the pace-followers among the cycle racers. Yesterday afternoon he rode for about an hour behind the big 10-horse power machine, which will furnish his pace in the race tomorrow night. The first mile was done in 1:25 and from that he reduced his time to 1:22 and 1:21 and kept up this pace for several miles without any apparent effort, and without seeming to let himself out at all. He said yesterday that he was confident, that, barring accidents, he could lower his own record on the track here and add another victory to his string.

NICOLA OFFERS CUP.

Medal Play Handicap on the Allegheny Course Tomorrow—Match Contest Being Arranged.

The golf competition for the Allegheny Country club course tomorrow is announced by Secretary O. D. Thompson as an 18-hole handicap under medal play conditions, for a cup offered by George P. Nicola.

It is probable that a match contest will be played on the Edgewood course tomorrow between the home team and the Pittsburgh Field club six. Arrangements are being made for the contest, but it is not yet certain that it will come off. The Field club has been unusually inactive this season, having played but one game with Westmoreland Country club. If the match is played the Field club team will likely be composed as follows: W. C. Fownes, Jr., C. H. Fownes, Syl Preston, Clarence C. Preston, Walter E. Stevenson and C. A. Tucker.

BEEF PACKERS TAKE NEW STEPS IN BIG COMBINE

Nelson, Morris & Co. Purchase United Dressed Beef Co. of New York.

PRICE PAID WAS $5,000,000

Simply Move Toward Merging Business of Whole Country in One Concern—Gates Crowd Has Some Ambitious Plans in West.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 14.—It was learned today that Nelson Morris & Co of Chicago have bought outright the United Dressed Beef Company of New York, which has a large plant at Forty-first street and East river. The consideration was $5,000,000. This is said to be but one of many steps toward a consolidation of all the large dressed beef companies in the country. The plan is understood to be that Nelson Morris & Co., Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. shall acquire these various properties in any manner most convenient. Then Swift & Co. are to take over the business of Nelson Morris & Co., after which the Swift and Armour interests are to be consolidated, thus merging the business of all and of the entire country in one concern. It is to be capitalized at something like $500,000,000. In connection with the story that these three concerns are now working in perfect harmony it is reported that they have just borrowed jointly $6,000,000 from a Chicago trust company. The entire loan first was taken by one trust company and afterward divided among several.

Gates Has Ambitious Plans.

Wall street people are beginning to ask: "Well, if the Gates party turns up in control of Colorado Fuel & Iron, what then?"

It begins to look very much as though the Gates crowd really had got the better of the interesting contest, and its ascendency at the forthcoming annual meeting is thought by professional observers to be foregone. What will follow after that is a subject of deep conjecture. It is no secret that the Gates party has ambitious plans in the west involving not only the Colorado Fuel & Iron property but at least one railroad property, viz: Colorado Southern, which is already controlled by the Hawley-Gates contingent. The Colorado Southern and the Colorado Fuel & Iron company could be operated to great mutual advantage.

It is understood that if the Gates interests frame the new board they will include George Gould in the directorate. There is evidence in several directions that the Gates party and the Gould contingent understand each other in the stock market. The Goulds naturally are interested in the eventual disposition of the Colorado Southern. No very great imagination is needed to weave pretty theories around a possible community of interests between Gates and Gould interests, affecting Colorado Fuel & Iron, Colorado Southern and several railroad properties in that territory in which Gould interests already are paramount.

Morgan Deals Out Profits.

J. P. Morgan & Co. today distributed to the members of the Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville (Monon) Purchase Syndicate the profits of the underwriting. These amount to $302,300. This is not a very handsome profit, judged by the average of Morgan returns, but it is a singular fact that the members of the syndicate had not to advance a single dollar. They simply guaranteed the success of the bonds issued jointly by the Southern railway and the Louisville & Nashville to buy the Monon, and the rest was automatic. Outsiders may be curious to know the forms of correspondence about an underwriting syndicate. The letters sent out today by J. P. Morgan & Co. read:

"Referring to our communication to you of August 1, we beg to state that we have now made up the accounts of this syndicate and the profits realized amount to $302,300. As your participation is $— bonds, your share of the profit amounts to $—, for which we enclose herewith our check to your order. Kindly acknowledge receipt and oblige

"Your very truly,

"J. P. Morgan & Co., Syndicate Managers."

Simple Case of Revenge.

The Gates party is talking of the poetic justice involved in its outwitting of the Osgood faction in the Colorado Fuel fight. It is charged that Mr. Osgood broke faith a year ago, calmly violating a written promise to put certain members of the Gates party on the board. After it had all been put down in writing at a conference in the Waldorf-Astoria, the Gates crowd last year gave their proxies to Mr. Osgood and John W. Gates went to Europe. On hearing that Mr. Osgood had broken faith, he fairly burned up the cables in his rage.

Most of the large producers of southern pig iron have booked contracts calling for their entire output during the first six months of 1903 and so are practically out of the market for the first half of next year. Naturally enough, the remaining possible production of southern iron for that period is beginning to command a premium. No. 2 foundry is selling at from $17 50 to $18 f. o. b. Birmingham, and consumers who have been tardy about covering their wants are anxious to pay these prices. Buyers everywhere are more anxious than producers to close contracts. The leading southern producers have adopted a waiting policy with regard to business for the second half of 1902, and none of them appear anxious to book business for that period until they can get closer feel of the market. Present indications are that basic pig iron will soon be bringing an average of between $17 50 and $18 a ton at the furnaces.

Big Rush for Cover.

The most interesting expert review of the iron situation that has appeared for a long while was issued today by Rogers, Brown & Co. They say:

"The one overshadowing feature of the pig iron market is the rush to cover for next year. The movement has accelerated rather than slackened in the past two weeks. It is doubtful if in the history of the trade, the first half of August ever saw as large a tonnage placed. In fact, it is a question if the sales have not exceeded any previous two weeks in the history of the country. There is but one explanation of this unprecedented buying. It means that, in the opinion of manufacturers throughout the United States, the business of 1903 is assured. The rate of buying also indicates that the volume is expected to be even greater than in 1902. It should be noted that this forward buying movement is absolutely free from influence by furnace interests.

"In Germany two years ago, syndicates required melters to make engagements fully a year ahead, under pain of having the supply cut off. In America, competition is wholly free and unrestricted. The consolidation movement has not reached the merchant furnaces of the country, and even working arrangements between them are seldom attempted. The claim sometimes heard that the trusts are forcing up prices does not apply to pig iron. Importations from Great Britain and Germany are steadily increasing in volume."

Railroad Stocks Ruled Wall Street

RAILROADS LED IN THE TRADING IN WALL STREET

Southern Pacific Assumed the Leadership of the Market.

SUGAR MOVED UPWARD

Was Conspicuous in the Industrial List Without Explanation—Foreign Trade Balance Increases in Favor of the United States.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Aug. 14.—Today's dealings in stocks were larger than those of yesterday and there were more of the usual market leaders that were conspicuous in the trading. But the market remained uneven and the special features of strength did not have news to explain them beyond the reported activity of speculative pools.

The Gould stocks continued to be well looked after, Texas & Pacific and Missouri Pacific being very largely dealt in, but the leadership of the market was assumed by Southern Pacific in which the dealings were more than twice as great as in any other stock. The argument advanced for the rise was that the market leader who has made a favorite of this stock for some time past is about to embark from foreign shores for home.

Rock Island was marked up 3⅜ and Louisville & Nashville advanced 2 points on account of the meeting of the directors today and the expectation that some steps might be taken towards completing the transfer of the company to the new interests in control. A number of minor railroad stocks available for possible absorption were strong features. The Grangers and Pacifics generally were affected in sympathy but the dealings were on a small scale.

Sugar Moved Upward.

In the industrial list Sugar made a conspicuous upward movement without explanation and the express stocks continued to move widely in spite of official denials of reports of merger. Amalgamated Copper, People's Gas and Brooklyn Transit were conspicuously heavy all day.

The brilliant prospects for the country's crops were the underlying influence in the strength of western railroad stocks. But the most important development of the day was the abundant supply of foreign exchange bills, which appeared in the market, causing a sharp break in rates and removing all apprehension of further gold exports for the present. Buying of stocks here for London account supplied some of this exchange and the improved foreign demand for wheat also made some exchange.

But the most important element in the weakness of exchange was the increased offerings of loan bills. The foreign demand for grain encouraged the offering of bills against future shipments. There were large offerings also for simple borrowing purposes, based on the present attractive difference in the interest rates here and abroad. The hardening of discounts in London today reflected the tendency of this process to equalize rates.

Foreign Trade Increasing.

The present situation of the foreign exchange market is highly abnormal, owing to the large falling off in our exports during the last few months, which upset the calculations of large previous borrowers abroad and necessitated the renewal of their recently maturing loans. But it must be recollected that the foreign trade balance in our favor, although less than expected, is nevertheless accumulating week after week, with the promise of notable increases as soon as the crops begin to move out. There is no probability in sight of a change in this course of things so that borrowings abroad to discount it are effected with comparative ease.

The listing of a Russian government bond on the New York stock exchange marks a departure, which it is hoped will develop into a regular market for foreign government securities. The fact that the step was due to the initiative of the Russian authorities themselves may be accepted as a recognition of the growing importance of New York as a supply of capital.

The bond market was dull but steady. Total sales par value, $2,650,000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Coffee futures opened steady, with prices unchanged to 5 points higher, the improvement being on later months, which received some early support from Brazilian and bull operators. The whole list after the first demand had been gratified commenced to sag, the weakness being particularly acute in near months, which were hammered persistently by local bears, presumably acting for leading importers. The decline was opposed but little by the bull clique, which led to the belief that the latter have abandoned temporarily at least the bull movement. The weakness was most noticeable in the last few minutes, when there seemed to be three sellers to every single buyer. The market was finally weak on near months and steady on distant months, with prices net 5 to 25 points lower. Total sales were 44,750 bags, including August at 5.10@5.25c; September, 5.05@5.20c; October, 5.10@5.25c; November, 5.15c; December, 5.15@5.20c; January, 5.15c; March, 5.25@5.35c; June, 5.45c; July, 5.50@5.56c.

Talked About in Wall Street

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The Herald this (Friday) morning says:

The manipulative party was more aggressive yesterday than on any other day of the present week. The commission houses reported no change in the character of the trading, but the manipulators were inclined to be more generous in the distribution of their orders and gave a much better appearance to a market, in which the characteristic feature was public apathy. The trading element joined forces with the manipulative party—a not unnatural result of the confident attitude displayed by the latter—and prices made still further recovery. No change was noted in speculative sentiment aside from that which represents the views of the professional element. That opinion was, without question, b

Local Stocks Stronger and Higher, the Market Being Quite Active

AIRBRAKE WAS ADVANCED ON NEW YORK DEAL

The Stock Jumped $3.50 on the Reported "Corner" of Its Eastern Rival.

ELECTRICS AND SWITCH UP

A. V. R. R. Preferred Made a New Record—Window Glass Rallied. Steels Steady — Coalers Active. Philadelphia Company Firmer.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was the broadest, strongest and most active in several weeks. The general feeling was decidedly bullish and many think the indications point toward a big market and higher prices. The features of the session were principally in the Westinghouse issues, all of which closed firmer and with good advances in prices to their credit. The sensation of the early trading was in Westinghouse Airbrake, which opened at 184¼, and within a few moments advanced to 187½, a gain of $3 50 over Wednesday's close. Later the stock reacted to 186 and then rallied to 186½, a gain of $2 50 for the day, 535 shares having changed hands. The advance was due to the exclusive announcement in this department yesterday morning of the success of a Pittsburgh syndicate which says it has secured 50,000 shares of the New York Airbrake Company, which gives it control of the company and which it will turn over to the Westinghouse Airbrake Company as soon as Mr. Westinghouse arrivesin New York. There is practically no doubt but that the Westinghouse people want to control the New York company, and with what stock they already own the syndicate's holdings will give them the much-desired control. It is not possible to verify the story from the officials of either company because the New York Airbrake officials have no means of telling who owns its stock, as the "pool" has not put it in one name, and the Westinghouse people may be in ignorance of the plan. A local brokerage house closely affiliated with one of the principals in the pool, who is also a large stockholder in the Westinghouse Airbrake Company, stated unequivocally to the financial editor of The Gazette yesterday that the deal was an absolute success and that all that remained was for the Westinghouse people to accept the mastery of the situation. That they would gladly avail themselves of the opportunity he did not doubt, for, he said, the terms would be made most reasonable. The principals in the pool are very wealthy men and number some of the most prominent of Pittsburgh financiers. The deal has been kept so secret that until yesterday's publication in The Gazette the outside world had no inkling of its magnitude. The accounts for the comparative slight dealings in the stock of either company. New York Airbrake advanced from 190 to 193. It is believed that when the deal is consummated the former high record price of Westinghouse Airbrake, which stands at 257 ex-dividend in April, 1899, will look small in comparison.

In the other Westinghouse issues the Electric seconds showed much strength at the close, which came at 110½, a gain of 2¼, less than 500 shares having sold. Union Switch and Signal common sold 425 shares and closed strong at 94½, a gain of 4¼. The preferred sold 150 at 105, a loss of 1 between sales. Electric firsts did not sell, but were firm at 110½ bid and 114 asked.

In the general list there were several features. Allegheny Valley Railroad preferred opened strong and advanced to 34¼, a new high record. It closed, however, at 33⅞ sales and 33¾ asked. The sales were only 700 shares. American Window Glass common was generally uncertain, but closed fairly steady at 63, a gain of ¼, on sales of 825 shares. The Steel issues were firm, Crucible common advancing to 22½ and closing ¼ lower, while the preferred closed at 86⅞. United States Steel common did not sell, but was higher at 40⅝ bid. Small lots of the preferred brought 90¼ and 90¾. The coalers were active and steady to firm. River common advanced ⅛ to 12⅝ and the preferred was up ⅞ at 40⅜, more being wanted. Pittsburgh common sold nearly 1,100 shares and closed steady at 28⅞. The preferred finished unchanged at 90⅜. Philadelphia Company common was strong and active, advancing on sales of 1,000 shares from 48⅞ at the opening to 49½ at the close, a gain of ⅛ for the day. The preferred was ¼ higher at 50. There was quite a spurt in Marsden common, 1,200 shares selling at 4, a gain of ⅝, the buying being by one house with close Philadelphia connections. National Fire Proofing common passed the day without a sale, quoting nominally at 31⅝ bid and 31¾ asked. The suspense regarding the dividend is over and it remains the same as heretofore—1¼ per cent. The preferred was firmer and ⅝ higher at 35⅝ for 161 shares. The other sales were without apparent significance or influence. In the quotations City Deposit bank advanced $5 to $180 bid, a new high record, and Manufacturers' Light and Heat also made a new high record by advancing ½ to 72¾ bid. Bonds were dull but steady to firm.

Wall Street Brokers' "Tips."

I think the best thing in the market now is Louisville & Nashville. As a 7 per cent guaranteed stock it will sell at 175 at least. People identified with the new lead combination are talking 40 for National Lead common.

We are told that a big campaign is to be made in Consolidated Tobacco debenture 4s.

The steel stocks look like doing better.

There is renewed bull talk in Tennessee Coal & Iron.

We have a strong point to buy Alton common.

We hear bull talk again on Illinois Central.

Wabash debenture Bs are being bought for a long pull, and we see nothing at the moment in this dull market that would rather advise than the purchase of these bonds for a substantial advance.—Lounsgery.

Leading interests in Wall street are eminently friendly to the situation. Instead of a pronounced movement being desired at this time, it is hoped that price movements will be kept within narrow limits.

Seeds.

While spot prices for timothy seed range from $2 80 to $2 90, not much is moving at present, for the reason that jobbers are advising buyers to hold off as long as possible. There is no new timothy in the market as yet, and present deliveries, where necessary, are of old stock. Some new will be shipped from the west by the end of the week, but whether it will come here or not cannot be told. In the meantime there have been prices named by western dealers which show that quotations will decline materially after the first of the coming month, and consumers who can wait until after that time will save money.

Fruits and Produce.

Trade along the street is quiet, produce dealers stating that retail grocers are buying but lightly owing to the absence from the city of so much of their trade, with the consequent decrease in demand. Quotations do not change much. Tomatoes hold at the advance of Wednesday, and green corn is firm, while string beans are lower. Ohio Concord grapes are now in the market, offering at 22 to 25 cents a basket.

Apples—New, per bu basket, 75c@$1 00; fancy red, ½ bu basket, 50@60c; Maiden Blush, $3 00@3 50; other fancy varieties, $2 50@3 00.

ROBBERS LOOT CLUB HOUSE IN THE EAST END

Home of the Pittsburgh Field Club Was Entered by Burglars.

GOODS TAKEN WORTH $200

Lockers of Members Were Broken Open and Thieves Took Richest of Contents — Police Believe That Boys Are Responsible.

When John Blewitt, groundkeeper of the Pittsburgh Field club, opened the club house at Peebles street and East End avenue yesterday morning he discovered that the house had been entered by thieves some time during Wednesday night, nine lockers having been broken open and a number of athletic goods taken.

The loss to the members of the club will reach $200. The articles taken were the finest that money could buy.

A window on the side of the building had been pried open. The thieves were evidently bent on obtaining money, which they thought would be found in the clothes of some of the members left in their lockers.

Quite a number of members of the Pittsburgh Field club had been on the grounds on Wednesday evening. Some were playing lawn tennis while others were engaged in a match game of cricket. The club house is located on the extreme western end of the grounds, and there is always a large supply of athletic goods in the building.

The robbery was reported to Inspector Robert S. Gray of the East End police force, yesterday evening, by Groundkeeper Blewitt, who sent the broken padlocks to the police station.

The police think the robbery was committed by half-grown boys, who have been loafing about the grounds. Several arrests are expected today.

The lockers of Walter Stevenson, Charles Fownes, Richard Cosgrove and M. A. Preston were entered and tennis and cricket suits, shoes, guards, clubs and other articles were stolen from them.

In the club house are about 75 lockers. Many of these are numbered and the names of the owners printed on the doors. The robbers evidently used candles, as matches and grease were found on the floor. Only the lockers of prominent members were entered.

The window where the robbers entered showed marks of a jimmy and the locks on it were broken. The lockers had blim locks and padlocks. Many of the doors were pried open with an iron bar, which was found in the club house yesterday morning.

INVESTING $300,000 IN NEW COKING PLANT

Oliver & Snyder Steel Company Will Increase Its Coke Output by One-Third.

The Oliver & Snyder Steel Company is preparing to increase its coking facilities by one-third by the erection of a modern plant to be known as their No. 3, near Vance's Mills, on the Redstone branch of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railway. The investment in the new plant will be about $300,000.

The company owns several thousand acres of the nine-foot Connellsville vein in that section and has already two large coking plants, comprising over 700 ovens, in operation there. The new plant will start with 30 additional ovens, bringing the total close upon 1,100 ovens, with a daily capacity of some 2,400 tons of coke.

To provide coal for the new plant another mine will be opened nearby. It will have two shafts, sunk to a depth of 400 feet, the main shaft being 12x26 feet, and the air shaft 12x18 feet.

Contracts have been let to Joseph Pew of Nanticoke, Pa., for sinking the shafts. The Vulcan Iron Works of Wilkesbarre will install the hoisting engine and the steel front headings and tipple will be built by the Penn Bridge Company of Beaver Falls.

Bids are now being taken for the erection of the 300 ovens and 50 double houses for the miners, and work on the new plant will be pushed with all possible speed.

Important Civil Service Examinations Are to Be Held in Pittsburgh This Fall.

The United States civil service commission has sent out circulars announcing examinations of candidates for places in the government service. Persons living in or near Pittsburgh who desire to take the examination in this city can obtain the application forms by applying at the postoffice.

The following examinations will be held in Pittsburgh on the dates mentioned: Bacteriologist and bacteriologist for the Philippine service, salary $1,800 and $1,200 a year respectively, on September 9; skilled laborer for the national museum, salary $40 a month, on September 30; department assistant in the Philippine service, on October 21; civil and electrical engineer, in the Philippine service, salary $1,400 to $1,600, on October 21, 22 and 23; architectural draftsman and junior architectural draftsman, salary $1,600 and $1,400, on October 21, 22 and 23.

Appointees to the Philippine service must pay their own transportation to San Francisco; then they will be transported from there to Manila free, but will be charged $1.50 a day for meals. On their arrival in Manila their meal money will be refunded to them, and after they have served six months the money they paid for transportation to San Francisco from the interior will also be returned. The government adopts these precautions to prevent men from taking the examinations merely to obtain a free ride to Manila.

TWO MEN BURNED IN GASOLINE FIRE

WING LEE, CHINESE LAUNDRYMAN, WILL PROBABLY DIE.

Harry Faid, Who Dragged Him Out of Burning Building, Also Horribly Scorched—Wu Ling Was Cleaning Clothes Under Gas Jet.

Two persons were badly burned in an explosion of gasoline in the Chinese laundry owned by Wing Lee at No. 273 Frankstown avenue at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

Wing Lee, the proprietor, was so badly burned that he was removed to the St. Francis hospital, where it was stated last night that he was still alive, but in a very critical condition and his chances for recovery are slight.

Harry Faid, an employe of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, who was passing the laundry at the time of the explosion, was burned severely about the head and face and it is thought he will lose the sight of one eye. He was taken to his home at No. 123 Findley street.

The building was quickly destroyed by fire and the frame structure adjoining also went up in flames, entailing a loss of about $5,000. The office of Dr. George W. McNeil at No. 275 Frankstown avenue was gutted by the fire and the house, occupied as a residence by a colored family, was burned. Dr. McNeil lost a valuable library and a number of costly surgical instruments.

The fire started immediately after the explosion at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. An alarm was sent in from box No. 624 and three engine companies were soon fighting the flames. The fire had gotten quite a start, however, and it was some time before it was finally gotten under control.

The explosion occurred when Wing Lee started to clean a suit of clothes with gasoline. He was working on a short table by a gas jet and the fumes from the gasoline ignited and caused the explosion. Harry Faid, who was passing at the time, rushed in and dragged the horribly burned Chinaman out of the building. In doing so he received burns that may yet cause death.

WHITEHOUSE WILL BE DISCHARGED

Director Leslie Is Indignant Over His Refusal to Accept a Captaincy.

Former Police Inspector Henry Whitehouse will be thrown out of the department of public safety. Director Leslie is indignant over his action in refusing to accept the appointment of captain in No. 5 district. Yesterday afternoon Director Leslie said that Whitehouse's case would be acted upon by the police board at its next regular meeting on Monday morning.

The board will take up the former inspector's action and discharge him from the department of public safety. Whitehouse had only been suspended temporarily. He was notified by Director Leslie to resume his work in the department as captain of No. 5 district. He accepted at the time, but later sent word to the director that he "did not care to work under him again, and would not accept the assignment as captain."

"Whitehouse disobeyed orders and will be discharged," said Director Leslie yesterday. "Formerly he was only suspended."

Director Leslie said that the two policemen, Edward Mellan and Patrick Maugan, who are charged with handling the two newsboys in a rough manner at Fourth avenue and Smithfield street on Wednesday, will be punished, as charges have been preferred against them and they will be tried by the police board on Monday.

Flames Broke Out in the Boiler Factory of Munroe & Son. Small Downtown Fire.

Fire broke out in the boiler factory of Robert Munroe & Son on Smallman street, near Twenty-third, yesterday and caused damage amounting to $15,000. The fire had a good start in the boiler house before the fire department arrived. It looked for awhile as if the flames would set fire to the works of Marlin & Co., sheet metal manufacturers, but the firemen got it under control and finally extinguished it.

Fire started yesterday afternoon in the jewelry store of John M. Roberts, No. 441 Market street, but was put out before it had gained much headway. An employe of the store had been using a candle in the cellar and it fell on some waste paper.

ORDERED TO GO BACK.

Bridge and Structural Ironworkers Returned to Work.

The strike of the structural iron workers of Pittsburgh yesterday against the American Bridge company was short. The strike was ordered the night before by Frank Buchanan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. The American Bridge company had declined to grant its Philadelphia workmen their demand for 50 cents an hour and an eight hour day.

At 10 a. m. yesterday President Buchanan sent a telegram to M. Gallantine of the Pittsburgh union that the American Bridge company had granted the Philadelphia demand. As the response to Buchanan's strike order was general, the officers of the union were busy sending word to the strikers to return to work, and by today all the men affected will be working as usual.

ASK WABASH TO INCREASE BONDS MILLIONS MORE

Owners Claim Unsufficient Security Is Offered for Their Lands.

RAILROAD AN EXCEPTANT

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Alleges Its Property Is Worth $500,000. River & Railroad Terminal Co. Demands an Additional Bond.

Several more exceptions were filed yesterday in common pleas court No. 3 to the bonds of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western Railroad Company, or the Wabash system, to indemnify holders of property sought to be appropriated by the company in the extension of its line along the south side of the Monongahela river.

The bond filed for land of the River and Railroad Terminal Company is for $150,000, but it is claimed by the company that its property is worth $1,250,000.

An affidavit by G. W. C. Johnston of the Henderson-Johnston Company, who were prior owners of the property, says the property embraced in the appropriation proceedings is used for warehousing and storage purposes. He declares the buildings and structures alone are worth $150,000, and the company has prepared plans for an additional large warehouse. He states that the real estate has an area of 170,000 square feet, exclusive of the right of way of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company, and that the options on the property at the present time exceed $1,100,000, making the estimated total valuation of the property $1,250,000.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Company filed exceptions to the bond of $10,000 given to it for property sought to be appropriated. The exceptant sets forth that it did not have legal or reasonable notice of the application for the approval of the bond, and alleges that no effort was made by the Wabash company to agree upon any value for the proposed property. It is claimed that the railroad is owner in fee of the property, and that the land sought is covered with tracks and switches, and that if it is taken it will cause damages to the exceptant that cannot be estimated. It is alleged that the bond should not be for less than $500,000.

John Howarth and Jacob Mensinger filed exceptions to the Wabash company's bond, making similar allegations and stating that the bond which is to secure damages to their property should not be less than $100,000.

MARRIED COUPLES' WOES.

Three Divorces Recommended on Grounds of Cruelty and Desertion—Stories of Petitioners.

Master R. T. McElroy, in the divorce proceedings of Annie against Alfred M. McDonald, recommended a decree. The couple were married August 31, 1897, by a justice of the peace at Youngstown, and lived together until April 18, 1900. Mrs. McDonald says that during their married life her husband only worked twice, both times taking the money for clothes for himself, and not giving her a cent. She says her husband assaulted her and spit in her face.

The libellant charges that upon one occasion McDonald tore up all of her clothes; that he almost daily beat her and bit her so often that her arms were nearly always covered with scars. Since their separation Mrs. McDonald says her husband has frequently assaulted her upon the street, and upon one occasion when they met in Penn avenue, he bit her.

The commissioner in the divorce suit of Biscol E. Green against Mary L. Green filed his report. Green says that he always turned over his pay envelope to his wife, and was even compelled to run a bill at the barber's, which she settled every two weeks. The husband says that when he returned home one day in November, 1893, he found a wagon in front of his house loaded with his furniture. This, he says, his wife sold for $84, and then deserted him.

The testimony in the divorce suit of W. H. Collins against Julia Collins of McKeesport, was filed by the commissioner. It is alleged the wife deserted her husband.

WIFE NOT OBLIGATED.

Defendant Says He Cannot Sell Property Against Her Wishes.

An answer was filed yesterday to the bill in equity entered by Thomas M. Van Der Veer against Charles and Catherine C. Monheim, an action to compel the defendants to sell the plaintiff's property on McClure avenue, Allegheny, for $20,000 under an agreement.

Monheim says he agreed to sell and is willing to carry out the agreement, but his wife is not, and that there is no legal obligation upon her to do so.

DENIES CITY'S RIGHTS.

Fined for Refusing Vaccination, J. T. Rodgers Appeals to the Courts.

J. T. Rodgers of the Twenty-third ward, by Attorney Herman L. Grote, yesterday in common pleas court No. 1 took an appeal from the decision of Alderman S. J. Toole in fining him $5 and costs for refusing to be vaccinated.

It is alleged that the proceedings are wholly void; that the alderman has no jurisdiction to impose a fine, and that the order issued compelling all persons to be vaccinated is a nullity. It is also alleged that the act of assembly under which the proceedings were brought is unconstitutional and void.

Rodgers alleges that he, as well as the members of his family, have always been in the best of health; also that the appeal is not for the purpose of delay, but that he considers an injustice has been done.

The will of Blanche V. Steenson of Allegheny was filed. She leaves her brother, James W. Alston, $3,000, and the residue of a $13,000 estate to her husband. Attorney William J. Jordan represents the estate.

An affidavit of defense was filed in the suit of Fred P. Lynch against O'Neil & Co. and the W. W. O'Neil Coal Company, an action to recover $1,510 for damages to the J. M. Gusky, a boat.
